THE EXPEDITION.

That Brig.-Gen. KILPATRICK had started on an expedition to the vicinity of Richmond with a considerable cavalry force and some artillery is generally known to the reading public. The special and most important object of that expedition is not so generally known, and I am not at liberty here to state it. It is sufficient to say, however, that in every other respect it was a complete success, resulting in the destruction of millions of dollars worth of public property belonging to or used by the Confederate Government of the so-called seceded States—property, some of which cannot be replaced at all, and the whole of it valuable to the rebel Government as a means of carrying on their infernal schemes against the United States. Miles of railroad track on the two principal roads over which LEE transports his supplies for the Northern army of Virginia, have been so thoroughly destroyed, that some time must elapse before the roads can be put in running order again; depots of commissary, ordnance and quartermaster's stores were burnt or destroyed; no less than six grist-mills and one saw-mill, principally at work for the rebel army, were burnt; six canal boats loaded with grain, several locks on the James River Canal, and the almost invaluable coal pits at Manikin's Bend, were destroyed. It is proper to say what every one with the expedition believes, that had it not been for the false information of a guide, the principal object in starting the expedition would have been accomplished. The man who thus dared to trifle with the welfare of his country, when it became evident that one of the most important objects would prove a failure through his willful connivance, was immediately hanged upon the spot; thus meeting a fate he so richly deserved.

The command had moved forward to far within the enemy's lines long before any alarm was given to the authorities at Richmond or Gen. LEE, and when it did become known in Richmond that a force of Union cavalry had crossed the Rapidan, so secret and well-planned had been the expedition by Gen. PLEASONTON, and so well executed by Gen. KILPATRICK, they had not the most distant idea of its whereabouts, when, in fact, the command was at that time almost within sight of Richmond, and a few hours later was hurling leaden messengers of death from a battery placed inside the defences of that city into its very suburbs.

DETAILS OF THE MOVEMENT.

The details of this movement, so far as it may be proper, I shall proceed to give nearly in the order in which they transpired. The command left Stevensburgh, Va., on Sunday night last the 28th ult., and crossing Ely's Ford, on the Rapidan—thence by rapid marches to Spottsylvania, Beaver Dam Station, on the Virginia Central Railroad, to the fortifications of Richmond, crossing the Virginia Central Railroad and the Chickahominy River near the Meadows, the White House Railroad a little East of Tunstall's Station, thence to New-Kent Court-house, and Williamsburgh Court-house, where the command arrived on Thursday last—having been in the saddle nearly all the time from Sunday night—a period of four days, and during the most of that time the men were supplied from rebel larders and their horses from rebel granaries. Nearly three hundred prisoners were captured, several hundred horses were pressed into the service, and hundreds of negroes availed themselves of this opportunity to come within our lines—thereby depleting the producing class of the Rebel Confederacy of just so many able-bodied men.

As before stated, the command left Stevensburgh Sunday evening, and moved toward Ely's Ford. Forty men, under the immediate command of Mr. HOGAN—a well-known scout—had the advance. The first of the enemy were met within one mile of the ford—a picket, to give notice should anything like an enemy approach. This picket, composed of four men, by a little strategy was gobbled, with their horses and accoutrements, without firing a shot or doing anything to alarm the reserve on the other side of the river—a force consisting of thirteen men, one Captain, one Lieutenant and eleven privates. HOGAN and his party gained the opposite bank, and the night being cloudy, succeeded in enveloping the reserve before they discovered his presence, and captured all but three. From these prisoners the important fact was ascertained that nothing whatever was known by the rebel authorities of the movement then on foot for their discomfiture. Col. ULRIC DAHLGREN, accompanied by Maj. COOK, of the Second New-York Cavalry, and a small party of picked men, took the advance after crossing the Rapidan, and, as they had a special mission to perform, some account of it will be given elsewhere. The main command moved along with rapidity, taking the road to Spottsylvania Court-house. The night was cloudy, and betokened rain; but the roads were good, and every one was pleasant and hopeful. "Let the storm hold off 24 hours, and then I don't care," said a prominent officer of the command. Spottsylvania was reached late at night; no halt was made, however, and the corps moved rapidly forward to Beaver Dam, on the Virginia Central Railroad. Capt. ESTES and Lieut. WILSON, with a party of men, dashed so suddenly upon this place that the telegraph operator was a prisoner before he had time to announce the arrival of the Yankees—much to his chagrin, for all the other telegraph lines had been cut, and JEFF. DAVIS, in his anxiety to know what was going on had been telegraphing that station every hour in the day for information. This place was reached at about 5 o'clock P. M. Monday, and the work of destruction was at once commenced. Small parties were sent up and down the railroad to tear up the track, burn the culverts and bridges, and destroy the rails by heating and bending them; this was comparatively an easy task, for there were thousands of cords of pine wood—all of which was burned—piled along the track, this being a wood station; a large new brick freight house, 100 by 25 feet, the telegraph office, passenger depot, engine house, water-tank, several cars, and a number of outbuildings, were all set on fire. While the command was engaged in this work of destruction, a picket reported the approach of a train loaded with troops from the direction of Richmond, and here commenced the first fighting. Gen. KILPATRICK advanced a column to capture the train, if possible, but the enemy had seen the smoke of the burning station, and approached cautiously. They came on, however, to within two miles of the station, and a portion of the troops were disembarked. A small force was advanced to meet them, and in a charge our troops captured two officers and thirty men. The enemy then fled. Several parties were sent out from this point to destroy the railroad at other points, and bridges on important roads. Maj. HALL, of the Sixth New-York Cavalry with a party went to destroy the Fredericksburgh and Richmond Railroad bridge over the South Anna, at Taylorville, but found the place guarded by the Maryland rebel battalion of rebel infantry, who had two pieces of artillery. This command was absent some time on important service, and did not rejoin the main column until the following day in front of Richmond. Not returning at the time expected, a detachment under Capt. HULL, of the Second New-York, was sent out on a mission, and to find out the whereabouts of Maj. HALL's party. HALL ran across a superior force and had a brisk skirmish, in which he lost five men, and was forced to retire. Another party under Capt. PLUM and Lieut. LORD was also sent off and returned in safety. The main command, just at nightfall Monday moved forward and during the night crossed the South Anna River. Here the advance had a skirmish with an infantry picket near Taylorsville, and dispersed them. The men crossed, a brief halt was made to feed, when the column at daylight moved "on to Richmond," before which, and within the second line of defences, a position was taken at 10½ o'clock the same morning. On the way Kilby Station on the Fredericksburgh road was destroyed, and Lieut. WHITAKER, of Gen. KILPATRICK's Staff, blew up a stone bridge near Kilby Station, and the track and culverts were destroyed all along in that vicinity. Lieut. BOYCE, of the Fifth New-York Cavalry, with 12 men, cut the track and destroyed the telegraph at Guinea Station.

THE APPROACH TO RICHMOND.

Tuesday, at 10½ o'clock A. M., found the command passing the outer earthworks on the Brook turnpike, within 3½ miles of Richmond. The arrival of Yankee troops was entirely unexpected, and the indignation of some very good-looking women, standing in front of houses at the roadside, excited much amusement. The advance captured several men on picket duty belonging to the citizen soldiery of Richmond, without firing a shot—and while waiting for the main column to come up, citizens were stopped and questioned with the utmost freeeom—they, of course, did not know who their questioners were. Here was obtained a copy of the Examiner and Dispatch fresh from the press that morning announcing some rumors about a brigade of Yankee cavalry having crossed the Rapidan. What their astonishment must have been one hour later to hear KILPATRICK's guns may be imagined but not described. Moving forward to within the second line of defences going toward the city, the skirmishers encountered the first shots from near the third line, or what is known as Battery No. 9. Guns were opened on both sides, and a strong line of skirmishers was thrown out. Captain BACON, with others, charged the Johnnys, and drove them inside their works, and a desultory firing was kept up until between 4 and 5 o'clock in the evening, when, for some reason then unknown, the command of Col. DAHLGREN not appearing, Gen. KILPATRICK decided to fall back. The enemy had burned the bridge across Brook Creek in rear of the command, and the column turned off upon the Meadows Road, crossing the Fredericksburgh and Richmond Railroad, and destroying everything within reach. At night, the command went into camp at a place six miles from Richmond, and two miles from the Chickahominy; there was a a slight fall of rain and sleet, and the men built fires, cooked their chickens and bacon, and had turned in for a few hours sleep; but as all persons are doomed to disappointment at some time or other, so it was their lot on this occasion. At about 10½ o'clock, just as the command was fairly asleep—except those on duty—the Rebels opened a two gun battery upon the camp of Gen. DAVIES' Brigade, and immediately after charged the camp of the Seventh Michigan. The men, though taken entirely by surprise, seized their carbines, and under Col. LITCHFIELD, supported by the First Vermont, Col. PRESTON, handsomely repulsed the enemy—who owing to the camp fires, had decidedly the advantage over our troops, owing to their occupying a position between the enemy and the camp fires. After forcing the enemy back, the Commanding-General decided to move his command again, so to be ready for any emergency at daylight. In this affair a number of horses were killed, and a few were stampeded by the shrieking shell rushing through the midnight air. The scene, all things considered, was not a very fascinating one to a man of tender nerves. Several men were wounded, and Col. LITCHFIELD, who is missing, it is feared is also wounded. The enemy had the exact range of Gen. DAVIES' headquarters, but he remained at his post during the whole attack, which lasted three-quarters of an hour, and was loudly cheered by his command for the noble conduct he displayed on this occasion. The enemy did not seem disposed to follow the rear guard, and the command moved forward, without interruption, toward the Pamunkey River. The enemy had burned all the boats in this river, so that if it had been desirable to cross, such a movement was entirely impracticable; Gen. KILPATRICK, therefore decided to move across the White House Railroad, and down the Peninsula. During the day, Capt. MITCHELL of the Second New-York, with the bulk of Col. DAHLGREN's command, rejoined the main column, and great was the rejoicing thereat, for nothing had been heard from it since the previous Sunday night. The enemy, Tuesday night and all day Wednesday and Wednesday night, hovered all about the command, and picket skirmishing was almost constantly going on in different directions. Wednesday morning, at about 9 o'clock, a large force of cavalry came upon the rear of the column. Gen. KILPATRICK was not unprepared for this, and decided to give them battle. The First Vermont, under Lieut.-Col. PRESTON, ably assisted by Capts. GRANT and CUMMINGS, and the First Maine, bore the brunt of this fight, which lasted something over an hour; while the Sixth Michigan and other regiments of Gen. DAVIES' Brigade were in position to render whatever assistance might be necessary. Only one charge was made, and that was by Company A, First Maine, led on by Capt. ESTES, A. A. G., and Capt. COLE, when five of the enemy were captured. The enemy, satisfied no doubt that they could not scare the command away, sullenly retired, but when the command moved forward harassed the rear and flanks. Several times an offer was made, but they refused to accept the offer of battle. On this day (Wednesday) several refugees from Richmond came into camp, and reported the presence of Capt. WILSON, of the Second Ohio, who had escaped from the Richmond Bastile, near at hand. For some reason, however, best known to himself, he did not join the command. Wednesday, also, Lieut. WHITAKER was sent to destroy Tunstall's Station, on the White House Railroad, but upon arriving there, much to his astonishment, he found the place in flames. From negroes in the vicinity he ascertained that a column of Union cavalry from Gen. BUTLER's Department had just left there. This was the first intimation of assistance being so near at hand. Thursday morning, Gen. KILPATRICK moved toward New-Kent Court-house, and on the way met Col. SPEAR, in command of a cavalry force, looking after Gen. KILPATRICK's command. The meeting was a gratifying one on both sides. Near New-Kent Court-house, the command came across the first negro troops they had ever seen. Here was a full brigade which had been marched up; and, as the cavalry passed by, cheer after cheer was given by both commands. No brigade ever made a better appearance or a better impression upon those who, for the first time, saw colored troops. A mountain of prejudice was removed in an instant. Between New-Kent to Williamsburgh, the column was more or less annoyed by bushwhackers; ten of these rascals were captured. Of our men, one was killed, several were wounded, and one or two horses were killed.

COL. DAHLGREN'S EXPEDITION.

Col. DAHLGREN, with a picked command, after leaving the main column, went to Frederick Hall, on the Virginia Central Railroad, destroyed that road and the telegraph line, and captured twelve officers who were there on court-martial duty. The James River Canal was then struck eight miles east of Goochland Court-house, and between there and Wertham Creek an immense amount of property was destroyed. Six grist-mills in full operation, a saw-mill, six canal-boats loaded with grain, several locks of the canal, works at the coal-pits at Manikin's Bend, and the barn of Secretary SEDDON, were all destroyed. It was at this point that Col. DAHLGREN discovered that his guide had deceived him, so as to thwart the principal object of the expedition, and he was immediately hanged to the nearest tree. The command then struck the Plank Road and moved on to Richmond from a westerly direction, and when within three miles of that city had a lively skirmish with some rebel infantry. This was late Tuesday afternoon, and about the time Gen. KILPATRICK retired from the Brook turnpike. Could the command have been there three hours earlier the results of the expedition might have been still more satisfactory than now. Finding the force too large to operate against with any prospect of success, and not knowing the whereabouts or fate of the main colum, Col. D. decided to fall back, and if possible reach that column, destroying property on the way. Col. DAHLGREN and Major COOK, with about 100 men, went a different route from the main portion of the column, commanded by Captain MITCHELL. The latter came in on Wednesday, as stated above; but of the other command nothing is certainly known. A prisoner, however, states that a Colonel with one foot had been captured.

The loss of the whole command by straggling and in every other way will not probably exceed 150 men, and after three days' rest the horses and men will be ready for duty again wherever their services may be needed.

Interesting Details of the Expedition—Approach of Our Forces to Within Two and a Half Miles of the City—Incidents of the March—The People, Negroes, Country, Food, Roads, &c.

FORTRESS MONROE, VA., Saturday, March 5, 1864.

By referring to the account of Brig.-Gen. KILPATRICK's cavalry raid within the enemy's lines in Virginia, which I forwarded yesterday, and taking a look at the map, it will be seen that our forces traversed nine different counties now occupied by the enemy, viz.: Spottsylvania, Caroline, Hanover, Goochland, Henrico, Louisa, New-Kent, James City and York. These counties embrace nearly all of the most aristocratic in the State—peopled before the war mainly by families who boasted of their long line of ancestors, the number of their negroes, their broad acres—in fact, where the feudal lords reigned supreme both over the white trash and the negro in bondage. The condition of this section of the country which has been under almost uninterrupted rebel sway for three years cannot be otherwise than interesting.

IMPRESSIONS IN DIXIE.

In riding through these counties the stranger is painfully impressed with the Sunday-like stillness that everywhere prevails; at the large number of dilapidated and deserted dwellings, the ruined churches with windows out and doors ajar, the abandoned fields and workshops, the neglected plantations, and the ragged, dejected and uncouth appearance of the few people who are to be seen at home; the almost entire absence of men and boys, everything indicating a condition of affairs which nothing but civil war could produce. Our troops as a general rule when within the enemy's lines, I feel proud in being able to say, conduct themselves as becomes soldiers, only doing that which they are allowed to do by the recognized rules of war by all civilized nations; destroying nothing but what is used as a direct agency in sustaining the bogus Confederacy, and taking so much provisions only and forage as may be required for immediate use; no attempt is made to intimidate the inhabitants who are quietly at home attending to their legitimate business, and hence they never think of running away from an invading Yankee column. In no other country, in no other war, in the history of the world, I will venture say, has there been shown so much confidence of a people in the honor of those whom they look upon as invaders as the people of the South when visited by the Union troops—the Southern newspaper press to the contrary notwithstanding. Neither men, women or children run away at our approach, and however much animosity they may manifest openly or indirectly, they seem to realize that they have an honorable foe to deal with.

CONDUCT OF UNION TROOPS.

THE REAL SECESH.

But your bitter, vindictive secesh is a rare object to find; the persons met with in the recent raid, for the most part, profess to have no interest in the rebellion—it came without their aid, and they have no desire to aid in its continuance any more than they are forced to do by what they feel to be the despotic rule of JEFF. DAVIS. All the real secesh capable of bearing arms are already in the army, together with many others whose hearts are not in the cause. I had frequent opportunities to converse with both of these classes. One of the most bitter rebels in his talk I ever met with, when captured, commenced a tirade of characteristic Southern braggadocio. He talked of "our best men in the field;" the South "could never be whipped;" "never had been whipped;" "it was a shame that Southern gentlemen were compelled to fight niggers;" and a whole series of the usual twaddle made use of by braggarts of the negro school, leading every one who heard him to suppose that he was a perfect pink of perfection—a pure F. F. V. This man, who is the type of the so-called chivalric sons of the South, was caught bushwhacking, shot at a man after he had surrendered, told half a dozen lies in almost as many minutes, admitted that he never owned a negro in his life, and that his family is both poor and illiterate—the poor white trash of which TOOMBS so picturesquely set off once in the United States Senate. This is no fancy sketch; and, when the fellow was exposed, he very cooly fell back upon the rights of a prisoner of war—that is, in his opinion, a prisoner of war should not be exposed in his arrogance and falsehood. Of such is the Southern army to-day made up. That they will fight well all do know—and that is about all the redeeming quality there is in the race. Their very pride and conceit makes them recklessly brave. This same fellow, after some conversation, volunteered the remark, "If we do come together again we can whip the whole world."

THE CROP PROSPECT.

In the counties visited, there are but a few field-hands left of the black class; and a respectable resident asserts it as his belief that not one-fourth as much land will be cultivated this year as there was the last, when the crop was much less than the year before. January and February is the time for preparing the ground for sowing and planting in this part of the State, but it was a rare sight to see a plowed field on the 1st of March.

WHITE MEN AT WORK.

At several points white men were seen working in the field, and occasionally a large plowed field could be seen; but, as a general rule, however, the farms are running over with weeds, the buildings are out of repair, fences are down, and the Virginia wild hog, heretofore seldom seem, except in pine forests, overruns the land. Particularly is this the case with the manorial estates to be seen as you approach the Pamunkey.

THE HOPE FOR PEACE.

There is an abiding faith both with soldiers and citizens, that the war will end this year in one way or the other. Your sanguine secesh, of course, (who is generally ignorant or stupidly blind to what is going on in the outside world,) is quite confident that the "Southern cause," as he calls it, will triumph; but from what I saw and heard, I do not believe a majority of the people outside of the army would give the turn of a copper to secure the success of that cause. The people generally do not hesitate to say they are heartily tired of the war; and well they may be, for every branch of industry, except that to aid the Confederate Government, is at a stand still; families are broken up and scattered, and the whole country is flooded with a species of paper money so nearly worthless as to scarcely be believed.

CONFEDERATE SCRIP

This stuff is thrown about carelessly, and is to be found everywhere stowed away in houses as carelessly as a prudent Yankee housekeeper does paper rags. For a $10 greenback I was offered at one place a pile of Confederate scrip large enough to fill an ordinary saddle bag. In the use of this money we had some experience. At a little oyster saloon, about six miles from Richmond, Gen. DAVIES and a party of friends numbering eight in all, partook of a supper which cost $85 40 in Confederate money, and the proprietor readily took $32 Confederate and a $2 greenback for the amount. The fare consisted of eggs, bacon, honey and bread. I obtained a bill of items from the gentlemanly owner of the place to adorn the books of some Antiquarian Society. A few years hence it will be much more of a curiosity than now.

THE FOOD QUESTION.

As to the question of food. Every family seemed to have a little. Halting for an hour at a house, the occupant was asked if he had any corn, to which he gave a most positive negative reply. The proper officer was not satisfied, and, by a little searching, forty or fifty bushels was found stored away in a loft of the house. He denied also having bacon, and said that neither corn nor bacon could be bought for love or money, but "the boys" somehow managed to find quite a little pile of the hog meat concealed in an out-of-the-way place; and this was the experience along the whole route in the different counties. At nearly every occupied house was to be found a lot of chickens, and occasionally more or less turkeys, ducks, geese and drakes, and not unfrequently small grunters were to be seen roaming through the fields at will. It was quite evident that there was no superabundance of food, but a good supply of apple-jack somehow could always be obtained at $125 per gallon—a price frequently paid. Confederate scrip was floating about so plentifully that the price of the liquor made but little difference to the purchaser—$150 per gallon would have been paid just as willingly.

NO CHOICE OF TROOPS.

These people at home pretended that they had no choice as to which troops visited their plantations. The Confederates took all they could find in the shape of provisions, and while they hoped to be excused from receiving visits from either, they thought they could be treated no worse by the Yankees.

THE HEART OF REBELDOM.

As you move toward the heart of rebeldom, the feeling of animosity is more intense in hatred toward Yankees, and is more openly manifested. Around the outer borders, where the people have more frequently seen Union troops, and know more of what is going on in the outside world, they seem to have enlarged and more liberal ideas; as you approach the centre more bigotry and intolerance, more outspoken hatred is met with. Until a point near Richmond was reached there was but little on the part of the people to indicate that we were moving among a united mass of enemies. On the Brook pike, within a few miles of Richmond, quite a number of very respectable-looking young women came out to the roadside and made use of some taunting expletives—such as no real lady would be guilty of—but judging from the surroundings, I suppose they were considered ladies at home. One of these women was almost frantic with indignation. "I never thought," said she, raising her hands in holy horror, "that you would be mean enough for this." This she repeated frequently as the column moved along. No one offered any disrespectful remark in reply. The boys were simply amused at her eccentric conduct. This course of conduct seemed to exasperate her; to have Yankee soldiers come there was bad enough, but to be laughed at by them seemed to her the very height of the intolerables.

THE SECESH DEMONSTRATIONS.

CONTRABAND NEWS.

Much has been said of the publicity given to this raid before the movement was commenced or immediately thereafter. It is undoubtedly true that a great many people knew that there was a movement on foot of some kind, but what of kind, or which way it was to go, or its destination, it seems nearly every one was in ignorance. The enemy knew nothing of the matter, and the corespondents in the field and at Washington, from the different publications in the papers, it is quite certain knew but little more than the rebels. One paper recounts, in fearful terms, how that owing to the indiscretion of some nameless person, the enemy had met KILPATRICK in superior force at the very inauguration of the movement, and fears were entertained for the safety of the command. This class of corrrespondents show how much knowledge they had of the affair by still persisting in the statement that KILPATRICK left Stevensburgh on Saturday evening, when, without much trouble, they might have known that he did not move until Sunday night. Old sores are always tender, and a newspaper in the habit of being beaten in news is frequently stirred up to commit indiscretions. The truth of the matter is that whether any of the newspapers did or did not act prematurely in publishing the movements of Gen. KILPATRICK, the enemy did not take advantage of it. The picket at Ely's Ford knew nothing of it, and the column moved to Beaver Dam on the Central Railroad, before hearing a hostile shot. So skillfully managed, indeed, was the whole affair, that the announcement of Gen. KILPATRICK crossing the Rapidan was made in the Richmond papers on the very day he arrived before that city. The pickets within 3½ miles of Richmond were captured before they were aware that an enemy's force was near them; and wherever the column moved before reaching Richmond, the enemy were taken by surprise and were entirely unprepared to resist the movement. This fact is confirmed by extracts from Richmond papers published in the TIMES to-day.

THE SOLDIERS—HARDSHIPS.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the officers and privates who took part in this raid. A movement within the enemy's lines, setting aside the extra personal risk incurred, is always and necessarily attended by hardships and privations of which few who have had no experience in the matter can form any adequate conception. In the saddle night and day, until nature is exhausted physically from being overtasked; exposed to almost all degrees of heat and cold—sometimes freezing, again too warm, one hour dry, and the next wet through to the skin; partaking of food at irregular intervals, and getting little or no sleep at all, except what is secured in the saddle, or for a half hour while the animals are feeding. Add to this the constant strain upon the nervous system; the hopes and fears excited by the constantly varying surrounding circumstances, while picking a way through a strange country without proper guides; the liability to be deceived willfully or otherwise by those who assume to have a knowledge of the country, the possibility and almost probability that you may be attacked at any moment by a superior force in some unexpected quarter, and under disadvantageous circumstances; the vexatious delays, marches and countermarches occasioned by bad roads and false information received often from those whom it is reasonable to suppose know whereof they affirm, all combined, go to make up a state of things which requires the greatest resolution and pertinacity of purpose not to sink under. The Commander of such a force must not only have all these qualities, but he must be promptly and ably supported by the whole command. This was the case in this movement in an eminent degree, and to this fact may be attributed much of the measure of success attained. The conduct of Gen. DAVIES and Col. SAWYER, commanding brigades, is particularly worthy of notice. Of the non-combatants accompanying the expedition, who rendered important service by acting as aids, were Dr. HACKLEY, with Gen. KILPATRICK, and Dr. WOOD and Rev. Mr. ROE with Gen. DAVIES. The staff officers generally were prompt and efficient.

THE AMNESTY PROCLAMATION.

Capt. ARMSTRONG, of the Commanding-General's staff, besides his regular duties, had charge of the distributing of the President's Amnesty Proclamation.—Printed in small pamphlet form, this production was scattered broad-cast everywhere. It was placed in the hands of the people, left in their houses, churches and shops; stowed away in books and in every conceivable nook and corner, so that if any large portion of the people are disposed to suppress the only public document emanating from Mr. LINCOLN which has not been reproduced in the Richmond papers, they will hardly be able to accomplish their purpose.

THE NEGROES.

The negroes everywhere, as usual, manifested great delight at seeing a column of Yankees, and acted unreservedly, as though they expected to find them all friends, and aided the expedition in various ways. They could always tell where corn could be found for the horses, and where provisions and horses had been concealed. They frequently gave valuable information as to the location of the enemy's pickets, of the presence of scouts in the neighborhood, and could tell when the last Confederate soldier had passed along the road. These services were rendered freely and without hesitation, often without the asking. Their services were brought into requisition in destroying railroads, and in one instance, at least, continued the work of destruction after the troops had left the spot, saying as the column moved off, "We'll catch up." Nearly all asked permission to come along, and many did so without asking the privilege, seeming to take it as a matter of course they were expected to join the command. There was no large number of negroes in any one place—but there were a few found in every locality—just enough, the whites said, to raise crops for the local population to consume. Only about one million dollars worth of this kind of property was brought away. Many of the negroes and negresses gave out on the long marches, and were left on the road. One squad of stout-limbed and stout-hearted women marched for two days with the command, and were finally rewarded by reaching Gen. BUTLER's lines, where they have some rights that white men are bound to respect under the present régime.

CATTLE AND HORSES.

Only a few cattle were seen on the whole march. Everything large enough for beef has been confiscated for the use of the army. The same may be said of horses. The few to be seen—except here and there an exception, are poor in flesh and in spirit. Not more than three hundred horses were obtained probably throughout the whole command—all having been pressed into the rebel service.

COL. DAHLGREN'S EXPEDITION.

The expedition upon which Col. DAHLGREN went to create a diversion was one of the most desperate undertakings of the war. The officers with him were selected for their well-known daring and invincibility in desperate circumstances. The second in command was Maj. COOK, of the Second New-York Cavalry, and next came Capt. MITCHELL, of the same regiment—officers well known in the service for their gallant conduct. It was Capt. MITCHELL who cut his way through with the bulk of Col. DAHLGREN's party, and joined the main command. Col. DAHLGREN and Maj. COOK, with about one hundred men, are still missing, but there is some hope that the bulk of this command will yet reach our lines. Of one thing the public may rest assured, that these officers will escape if such a thing is within the region of possibilities.

WORTHY OF ATTENTION.

The Peninsula seems to be overrun with temporarily disbanded Virginia troopers in the rebel service, who prowl about in small parties in the capacity of bushwhackers, for the purpose of picking up stragglers with horses. In this way they have, it is alleged, obtained many horses for STUART's cavalry, and they profess still to have large expectations in this direction. Gen. KILPATRICK's body guard, while moving down the Peninsula Thursday, succeeded in capturing several of these fellows while hovering on his flanks, and the column under Gen. DAVIES succeeded in capturing several more, but not until after one of our men had been killed and several wounded, and two or three horses had been shot. These men select positions where the woods are so thick as to render a pursuit by cavalry impossible, and deliberately fire into the column. One, at least, of this class was captured, and he will doubtless be turned over to the tender mercies of Gen. BUTLER, a man whom, while they hate him with a relish, fear him just as much. Turn loose KILPATRICK's Cavalry Division upon the infected counties, and, in a very short period of time, the bushwhackers will all disappear. The boys of the Third Division, when permitted to do so, have a wholesome way of suppressing this kind of warfare.

BRAGG AT RICHMOND.

Several prisoners taken in front of Richmond while our cavalry was engaged within the defences of that Capital, state positively that Gen. BRAGG was on the field during the action, and was furious at the audacity of the Yankees. The panic in Richmond was undoubted. Citizens who left the City at 8 o'clock and were taken into custody between 10 and 11 o'clock, said that they heard nothing of the approach of our forces. It is believed that they first knew of the presence of a cavalry force by a messenger who went across the fields soon after crossing Brook Creek.

THE WEATHER AND ROADS.

All things considered, no better weather could have been asked for the consummation of the object of this raid. The first night—Sunday—was cloudy; the next day there was no sun, so that the column could not be seen at a distance by the enemy. That night there was a slight fall of rain, refreshing to the horses, and doing the men of the command no particular harm, as it was not very cold. Tuesday night was the only really disagreeable time—just when the camp was shelled—then there was a fall of rain which gradually turned into sleet, and subsequently snow. The mud was deep, nevertheless the command had to move on through the mud and slush six inches deep to a defensive position some ten miles distant. If it was disagreeable for the men on horseback, let the reader imagine how much more disagreeable it was for a hundred or more dismounted men, whose horses had been shot or stampeded in the night attack. Bravely did these dismounted troopers plod on through the mud hour after hour, mile after mile. All the led horses were brought into requisition—a few stray animals were picked up in the morning—so that nearly all of the dismounted were remounted the next day. Wednesday, for the first time, the sun shone forth—never at a more welcome moment—making every one forget the hardships they had undergone, and the perils by which they were then surrounded. The bottom lands of the broad Pamunkey never looked more tempting, and the whole command was halted thereon, and neighboring corn cribs and farm houses furnished food for horses and men.

Up to this time—Wednesday evening—no one knew of the approach of a force from Gen. BUTLER's Department, and the first intimation of it was when Lieut. WHITAKER, with a small detachment, went out to burn Tunstall Station and destroy the railroad track, and found that the station was in flames, and that a Union force had preceded, Thursday morning, a few miles south of the railroad, the advance met Col. WEST's command. The gratification of the troops at meeting such a force so unexpectedly can only be imagined by those who have been similarly situated.

Near New-Kent Court-house a brigade of colored troops was standing at ease in column by regiments, and certainly no troops ever made a better first impression. Cheers filled the air, given with a cordial good will by both commands.

The Peninsula seems to be almost entirely abandoned by all its former residents, and given over to bushwhackers and roaming bands of lawless men. North of Williamsburgh bushmen hang upon the flanks and rear of any column of troops that may pass, to pick up stragglers, secure horses, and not unfrequently, apparently, for the sole purpose of gratifying a morbid spirit of revenge, firing into a column indiscriminately, with no hope of securing any immediate advantage thereby. Occasionally a poor family is found at home, but they manifest no particular feeling either for or against the Union cause. Their sons and brothers capable of bearing arms are in the rebel service, and therefore it is supposed their sympathies are in that direction. The locality between Burnt Ordinary and New Kent Court House is particularly obnoxious on account of bushwhackers. On Tuesday last four colored soldiers of Colonel WEST's command, were captured in this vicinity, and one was shot through the arm. I have before recorded the experience of Gen. KILPATRICK's command while passing through the district indicated.

REBEL RAILROADS.

The rebels have evidently obtained a supply of railroad iron from some source within the last year. The writer hereof while on Gen. STONEMAN's raid in the Spring of last year, had his attention particularly called to the condition of the tracks of several roads. It was badly worn and pealed off in many places so as to be dangerous for cars to be run at any great speed. Since that time these roads have been relaid—at several points, certainly—with a first quality of T rail, and several piles of new rails were destroyed last week by our troops, laid by the roadside for use when necessary. All the cars seen were next to worthless.

REBEL ACCOUNTS OF THE RAID.

RAID ON THE CENTRAL RAILROAD—CHARLOTTESVILLE THREATENED.

From the Richmond Examiner, March 1.

An official dispatch was received yesterday afternoon from Gen. LEE, at Orange Court-house, stating that the enemy's cavalry appeared to be moving on both his flanks; that one column had proceeded in the direction of Frederick's Hall (which is the station above Beaver Dam, on the Central Road), and the other in the direction of Charlottesville.

In the course of the day a dispatch was received, via Lynchburg, from Col. MALLORY, commandant of the post at Charlottesville, giving the information that the Yankees were then within three miles of the town.

At a later hour of the day a dispatch was received from Beaver Dam, from one of the operators of the telegraph, who had fled there from Frederick's Hall. The substance of the dispatch is understood to have been that, at the time the operator left Frederick's Hall, two brigades of the enemy's cavalry were within a mile and a half of that place, and that fighting was going on.

These dispatches were occasions for much anxiety and comment yesterday among those acquainted with their contents. The fears for Gen. LEE's safety, who was a passenger yesterday morning on the Central train from this city, were happily quieted by the dispatch received from him in the evening; and great must be the chagrin of the Yankees when they learn of the prize which they so narrowly missed.

A report was in circulation yesterday that the Yankees had made, at Frederick's Hall, a large capture of artillery, which had been wintering there. This report, however, obtained but little credit, as it was not considered likely that the raiders would care to encounter the number of guns they were reported to have captured.

LATER.

At a late hour last night we learned that the Yankees did not appear at Frederick's Hall, but made their demonstration on the railroad, about three miles south of that station. After tearing up the rails the enemy took a southerly road—probably in the direction of Hanover Junction.

Nothing could be heard from Charlottesville. The bridge over the Rivanna is probably the object of the enemy's attack. The down train had not arrived at this writing, and fears were entertained for its safety.

By the Fredericksburgh train we learn that the ene-

MONDAY, March 7—A. M.

The past week was one of unusual activity in all departments of Trade and Speculation. The Import entries were large, as well in General Foreign Merchandise as in Dry Goods. The Custom Duties were $1,753,000 in gold, against which the Treasury Office was unable to disburse over $258,000 for Interest on the Public Debt, thus raising the already heavy balance of $20,675,000 in Gold and Silver to $22,120,000. If to this sum we add about $6,000,000 on hand in the offices at San Francisco, Philadelphia, Boston, &c., we have a surplus for Government account in Gold and Silver of twenty-eight millions of dollars. The accruing Customs to the close of the fiscal year, June 30, will probably add nearly, or quite thirty millions more to the Gold resources of the Treasury, as against the following prospective disbursements on account of Gold interest on the Public Debt:

April 1, Coupons on 7.30's	$3,000,000
May 1, Full and Fractional ditto, on the $500,000,000 Popular Loan	12,000,000
July 1, Coupons on other Loans	3,300,000
Together	$18,300,000

The resulting balance would be about Forty Millions, of which $27,857,000 in Gold properly belongs to the U. S. Sinking Fund, to bring up the legal requirement of one per cent. per annum on the principal of the entire Public Debt, for the Fiscal Years 1863 and 1864, as heretofore shown. The technical objection, which we understand the Secretary of the Treasury has to turning this Gold into the Public Stocks, by purchase, for the Sinking Fund, is that, while the existing law authorizes the purchase of the Public Stocks at Current market value, (at a brokerage of not over one-eighth of one per cent.,) he conceives that he has not sufficient law first to turn the supply of Gold set aside for the Sinking Fund, into Currency. It is of immediate importance, therefore, that Congress should vote the additional authority. And it affords us pleasure to notice that the Hon. HENRY G. STEBBINS, of the First New York District, and who is also President of the New-York Stock Exchange, has urged the subject, in an able and comprehensive speech, upon the prompt attention of the House of Representatives. The particular plan of converting the surplus Gold is of less moment just now than the removal of the reproach upon the Government of indirectly promoting a damaging speculation in Gold through the heavy daily demands of the Custom-house. At the same time it is also desirable that nothing should be done, directly or by implication, to divert the proceeds of this Gold from the Interest and Sinking Funds, to which the avails from Customs in Gold are sacredly pledged. The gradual purchase, at current market, of $40,000,000 or $50,000,000 of the present Funded 6 per cents of the United States for the Sinking Fund would greatly promote the negotiation of the new 5 per cent. Gold bearing Stock, not so much from the effect upon the current price of the 6 per cents, as upon the Public Faith in maintaining in Gold the Interest on the Funded Stocks in Gold from Customs, and in providing from the same specific and ample source a Sinking Fund for ultimate redemption of the Principal.

The Exports of the week were on a liberal scale in Domestic Produce, though moderate in Gold, which circumstance is not to be regretted; while the Customs demand, and the constant speculation on three-day options in the Gold Room on the corner of William-street and Exchange-place, tend to keep up the premium to a point which must be considered extravagant, in view of the large and accumulating stock of gold in this City and the ample reserves in the country.

The receipts of Cotton from the Southwest during the past week amount to 7,894 bales. The stock in this market is rapily accumulating over the current wants of the domestic mills, and the price has so receded that considerable exports to Liverpool begin to be talked of.

There was an active business on the Stock Exchange throughout the week, with heavy fluctuations early in the week against Erie Common Shares, which, from the leading position of the Stock, partially affected the entire Railway list. But the attempt to bear the market, in this way, though under bold and wealthy auspices, failed of success, and there was a general recovery in the upward course of prices by Thursday morning, since when the excitement in speculation has been greater than early in February, and has taken even a wider range than was then reported. Some of the recently reorganized Railways in the West, attained figures at the close of the week which would have been extravagant for the best dividend shares a year ago. And all the new Coal concerns followed the extraordinary rise to 210@230 in Delaware and Hudson and Pensylvania Coal. The stock of the Reading Company was also influenced by the same cause. The Government Stocks advanced to 108 ℘ cent. for the recently closed five hundred million Loan on 5-20 years 6 ℘ cents, and 112 ℘ cent. for the 7-30 ℘ cent. Treasury Notes convertible into the long 6 ℘ cents of 1881. The Border State Stocks were partially higher at the close and the Railway mortgages firm. A considerable speculation is going on in the Certificates of the reorganized Ohio and Mississippi Road, (broad gauge from Cincinnati to St. Louis,) and a further advance was made in the sales to 46@47 ℘ cent.

There was increased excitement on the Stock Exchange, Saturday, on the upward turn in the Coal and Railway Shares. The additional advance since Friday is equal to 3@5 per cent. on several descriptions, and the eagerness of buyers is so pressing in some instances as to create a difference of 1@2 per cent. in as many minutes. The New-York Roads were rather less moved than the Western list. New-York Central about 1 and Hudson 1¼ ℘ cent. better; Erie Preferred attracts more attention on account of the conversion of some of the mortgages on the Road which stand before this class of the Stock, and the price advanced 2 ℘ cent.; the Common Shares maintained the large recovery of Friday, but no more. The Coal Stocks were higher on nearly all descriptions, and the highest figures known on Cumberland since 1853 were paid this afternoon, and still higher on the new Central Company in the same region. The Wyoming Valley Company, (recently introduced,) in the Pennsylvania Anthracite fields, advanced above par, and as on Friday, there was a strong demand for Reading Shares. Among the Western Roads, Fort Wayne was 5@6 ℘ cent. up, and fresh attention directed to Michigan Central and Illinois Central. The Government Stocks rose to 108 for the Popular 5-20 years Loan, and 112 for the 7-30 ℘ cents April and October issue. The Coupons of 1881 brought 111½ ℘ cent. Treasury Certificates were in demand at the close at 99½ ℘ cent. Canton Shares touched 58, and Quicksilver steady at about 59 ℘ cent.

At 4 o'clock the following prices were made as compared with Friday afternoon, same hour. There was much excitement in the Street after the adjournment of the Stock Boards, and it was difficult to get the correct quotations for many of the fancies. Sales of Fort Wayne were mentioned as high as 112 per cent. Pittsburgh and Illinois Central were also higher than at the Second Board, and Reading up to 138 per cent. At the Evening Exchange the excitement continued, and generally on higher prices:

The price of Gold was inclined to increased firmness early in the day, but as the deliveries on short contracts were made with rather more ease, the market left off barely steady at 161⅝. The Customs demand of the day was $212,000, and the Export demand only $123,140. The total shipments of the week amount to $629,603. Bills on England left off 175½ ℘ cent. Money 5@6 ℘ cent. in the open market on Stocks and prime short paper.

The Stock of the new Tenth National Bank, HENRY A. SMYTHE, President, of one million of dollars, will be awarded at the office of Messrs. GEORGE S. ROBBINS & SON, on Thursday, 10th inst.

The half-yearly report of the Marietta and Cincinnati Road, directed by Messrs. LE GRAND LOCKWOOD, F. C. GEBHARD, WILLIAM HOGE and BLAKELY WILSON, of this City, and NOAH L. WILSON, (President,) and others, of Ohio, has been published in pamphlet form. The general balance sheet is brought down to 31st December, 1863. Since the previous July report, the management appears to have placed $1,000,000 (or about £200,000) of their new Sterling Mortgage for the extension of the line into Cincinnati, in addition to $609,977 Dollar Bonds for this and the Eastern extension and equipment of the Road, and of the avails of these negociations, $1,118,499 remain in the hands of their Banks and Bankers. The requisitions for the new work now in progress will thus be met with punctuality, and the work accomplished on the lowest cash terms. The gross revenue of the Road for the six months is stated at $419,691, and the net $220,650, independent of an item of $17,571 from interest on balances. The cash half-yearly dividend on the 6 ℘ cent. First Preference Shares was $162,478, and Interest paid on Loans and rent of the Little Miami track, which the Company now use into Cincinnati, amount to $71,963. The previous surplus remaining to Income account was $338,684. It still remains, after the half-yearly disbursements, $342,464. The stock of the Company is thus stated:

The "3d Quality" he intends shall equal in respect to Durability, Elasticity and Good Writing Qualities (the only true considerations) any Gold Pens made elsewhere.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

THE REBELLION.

Our special correspondent with Gen. Kilpatrick's expedition sends us a full and reliable account of the late cavalry raid to the vicinity of Richmond, Virginia. Gen. Kilpatrick, it appears, left Stevensburgh on Sunday evening last, and went by the way of Chancellorsville and Spottsylvania Court-house to Beaver Dam, where he met the first armed resistance. The enemy were finally repulsed, and 32 prisoners taken. The railroad track for miles on the Central Road and several different stations were destroyed when the command moved upon Richmond, arriving before that place early Tuesday morning. A fight was kept up within the defences of that place until near night, when Gen. Kilpatrick withdrew. That night he was attacked in camp, and again repulsed the enemy, and also on the following day, arriving Thursday at Williamsburgh with the loss of only about 150 men. Col. Dahlgren, with a small command, destroyed the railroad at Frederick Hall and on the James River, below Goochland, destroyed the canal, six flouring mills, one saw mill, and the coal mines at Manikin's Bend. The property destroyed is valued at millions of dollars, and is the heaviest loss that has yet been inflicted upon the rebels by a raiding party. Some 300 prisoners were captured, several hundred horses and a large number of negroes. The command lived on the country. Cols. Dahlgren and Litchfield and Maj. Cook are missing. We also print this morning the rebel accounts of the expedition. It appears that within four hours after the Richmond papers had first announced the passage of the Rapidan by our forces, Kilpatrick's guns were pitching shell into the suburbs of the city. Our own account will be found very full and interesting, as well as being the only one prepared by a special correspondent with the expedition.

The battle of Olustee, Florida, according to late Richmond papers, was fought by a rebel force of eleven regiments of infantry, four battalions of cavalry, and three batteries of artillery. Our own force, as is well known, did not equal this by one-third. The Richmond Dispatch, of March 2, says: "A dispatch dated Lake City, Fla., Feb. 24, says that the enemy have abandoned their position on the St. Mary's River, and are retreating to their gunboats. Our loss in the late fight is put down at 35 killed and from 700 to 800 wounded. The enemy's loss is estimated to have been between 2,500 and 3,000. The enemy's force is said to have numbered about 10,000 men of all arms, whilst ours would not exceed 4,000. Two of their negro regiments were placed in front, and urged on at the point of the bayonet. At a distance they withstood our fire, but as our lines advanced they broke in confusion. More than one-half of the two negro regiments are reported to have been killed and left dead on the field."

The withdrawal of Gen. Sherman from Eastern Mississippi seems no longer to admit of any question. Advices from Vicksburgh, up to Feb. 27, represent that Gen. McPherson, with the Seventeenth Army Corps, had reached Jackson, Miss., where he would remain for the present. Gen. Sherman, with the balance of the force, was en route for the same place. Late rebel papers give details of the damage done by Sherman to the railroads and country. The Mobile and Ohio Railroad is destroyed for forty-six miles, all the bridges and trestle work being destroyed, and the track torn up for miles. The Southern Road is completely destroyed from Meridian to Jackson. A large number of negroes were carried off.

From Newbern we learn that the recent suspension of the Raleigh Standard was by order of Jeff. Davis. Its editor, Hon. W. W. Holden, would be a candidate for Governor, and probably be elected. Particulars of the rams on the Neuse, Roanoke and Tar Rivers are given. They are represented as being very formidable, and almost ready for action. The belief of a renewed rebel demonstration against our posts in North Carolina is increasing at Newbern, and very plausible reasons are given therefor.

A dispatch from Knoxville yesterday says that our scouts report Longstreet using every endeavor to facilitate his retreat. His transportation is said to be going by rail to Richmond, and his troops are being mounted upon the mules and horses thus released, and all that can be impressed, to hasten the march of his troops.

The Richmond Examiner of March 1 says that on Feb. 29 four hundred more Federal prisoners were shipped for Americus, Ga. Nearly three thousand have thus far been sent, and there are accommodations for six thousand.

A dispatch from Louisville says Gen. Grant arrived at that place Saturday en route for Washington.

GENERAL NEWS.

The steamship Ocean Queen, from Aspinwall Feb. 26, arrived yesterday. The Constitution had arrived at Panama from San Francisco, with $2,600,000 in gold, $2,000,000 of it for England, part of which was on account of the United States Government. Panama was quiet. The "Congress of the Peoples" of the Spanish American States was soon to assemble in Panama. It will take into consideration the encroachments of France and England on the American Continent, and to concert measures for resistance to further attempts at domination by European Powers. A "treaty of alliance" had been agreed upon between Ecuador and Colombia. In Peru a reform in the currency had been established and a new coinage authorized. Business in Chili had been very profitable. Some of the Joint Stock Companies had declared very large dividends.

Referring to the reënlistments of the three years' troops in his command, Gen. Hooker, in a recent private letter remarked, "It did my soul good to see those heroes step forward and pledge themselves anew during the continuance of the rebellion. Eventful as has been the war to many of us, no one event has filled me with so much satisfaction. It is something to live for when we can be surrounded with such companions."

The steamship George Cromwell, from New-Orleans Feb. 27, arrived at this port yesterday. The news is unimportant. The majority of Gov. Hahn, in a vote of 10,000, over both competitors, was 2,241. An attempt, it is said, will be made to invalidate the election. Nothing doing in military matters.

A. A. Lovett, Esq., Superintendent of the People's Telegraph Lines, has been presented with an elegant service of silver by his friends in the service of the line, as a testimonial of the high estimation in which he is held by them.

There was increased activity on the Stock Exchange on Saturday, and great speculative excitement at the close. Money 5@6 ℔ cent. The 5-20 years U. S. Stock rose 108 ℔ cent. Gold 161⅜

The Rewards of Public Perfidy.

It is remarkable how public injustice and want of faith always come back to plague their authors. During the time of what seemed to European eyes our national dissolution, when the great Republic was breaking up into fragments, the fitting out and sending forth of privateers from British ports to destroy, under a bastard flag, our falling commerce, seemed to many British eyes a highly agreeable and exciting pastime. Ships were openly built, fitted out, armed and manned in Great Britain. When complaints were addressed to the Government, the proofs were either not considered legally sound, or certain public officers were providentially stricken with diseases, so that the suspected ships might escape through their delays. "Dodges" of various kinds were adopted to shield and secure the departure of the dangerous privateers. It needed but a few fast-sailing steamers thus to go forth to destroy half our commerce, as our English friends well knew. When Mr. Adams protested in the name of the British Municipal Act, he was told by the public that they must judge of the execution of their own laws, that England could not proceed in violation of law, as some countries were in the habit of doing, and that evidence was exceedingly difficult to procure in such cases. When, standing on a broader platform, he protested against such acts in the name of International Law, and pled the unchanging example of the American Government in similar cases, he was put off with ambiguous declarations and replies, such as that both sides were thus receiving help from Great Britain, and neither had a right to complain.

The American Republic seemed in its dying agonies, and these little spoliations of a commerce, soon to yield to British commerce over every ocean, were looked upon rather as the over-hasty plunderings of the effects of a sick and dying man, than as anything very reprehensible or unjust.

Strangely enough, it seemed to occur to only one or two leaders of English opinion, that England was setting in these measures the most fearfully dangerous precedent for her own interests which could possibly be offered. Passion and prejudice blinded nearly all eyes. No British statesman could arise and say that of all nations on earth whose interest and duty it was to observe the strictest neutrality, Great Britain was the first, that to her it was a matter of almost life and death to avoid even the slightest suspicion of bad faith.

Time and the development of our resources, and more reflection, has changed all this. England has awakened now to her folly. She is threatened at this moment with a war with a Power which has no navy, and scarcely a port. Germany has the position toward her that the rebel Confederacy occupies toward us. Before these fatal precedents, the German Confederacy could have done no more damage to British commerce than, for instance, did Russia in the Crimean war. But now all is changed. Within twelve days from the first declaration of war between England and Germany, letters-of-marque will be forwarded to this country. Should we pursue British precedent, thousands of men will be busy at once in building, or arming, or equipping, or manning steam-privateers with American sailors and from American or German capital. The arms will go out in one ship, the men in another; they will meet outside the Hook, and the privateer will begin its career of desolation and havoc over the Atlantic. Or they will sally from San Francisco, under the German flag, and sweep the Pacific. If the British Minister protests, our Government might return with emphasis the tu quoque reply; they might say that they accepted the British version of our own law, that ships could be sent, provided they had no arms, and arms, provided they did not belong to the ship; they could urge the difficulty of procuring sufficient evidence to convict; that we were supplying both sides, and that the lawful exercise of commerce is not to be checked. Telegrams from Washington to New-York could be mysteriously delayed, and Judge Bates or the Provost-Marshal General be providentially attacked with sudden disease, and an unlucky ship or two escape. All this might be, and the whole world would say that it was but a just return for English perfidy.

We sincerely trust that such would not be the action of our Government. We have a high and noble record of our action in past times, in matters of international law, and we hope it will still be preserved unsullied. We are sure, with our present Cabinet and present Judges, it would be. The decisions of our courts in our early history and during the war, have been models of fairness and justice, and the highest international spirit. We have no doubt they will continue to be so. But to our people, such an example has been set in England of subterfuge, and skillful and technically legal evasion of international law, that all we have stated as hypothesis might be logically realized as fact.

The Rebel Spirit.—We are very sorry indeed that the opinion entertained for some time past by many excellent people, that the rebel army and Confederacy were so badly broken down that they would do no more serious fighting this Spring, or henceforward, has not been sustained by our latest experiences. The rebels, in their recent encounters, in different parts of the country, with our troops, under Gens. Seymour, Sherman, Smith and Palmer, have fought with their usual obstinacy and pertinacity, and marched with their ordinary celerity. Their small detachments everywhere show fight, and their large armies stand their ground. The rebel backbone is undoubtedly in a frightful condition, and those unacquainted with morbid anatomy might easily imagine that it was quite impossible for the monster to stand erect. But he does stand, nevertheless, and it is wisest for us neither to ignore his vitality nor his power. As long as the armies of Lee and Johnston exist, we shall have a great deal of work to do; and even they, we fear, will have to be killed half a dozen times before they can be accounted dead.

The Ovation to the Black Regiment.

There has been no more striking manifestation of the marvelous times that are upon us than the scene in our streets at the departure of the first of our colored regiments. Had any man predicted it last year he would have been thought a fool, even by the wisest and most discerning. History abounds with strange contrasts. It always has been an ever-shifting melo-drama. But never, in this land at least, has it presented a transition so extreme and yet so speedy as what our eyes have just beheld.

Eight months ago the African race in this City were literally hunted down like wild beasts. They fled for their lives. When caught, they were shot down in cold blood, or stoned to death, or hung to the trees or the lamp-posts. Their houses were pillaged; the asylum which Christian charity had provided for their orphaned children was burned; and there was no limit to the persecution but in the physical impossibility of finding further material on which the mob could wreak its ruthless hate. Nor was it solely the raging horde in the streets that visited upon the black man the nefarious wrong. Thousands and tens of thousands of men of higher social grade, of better education, cherished precisely the same spirit. It found expression in contumelious speech rather than in the violent act, but it was persecution none the less for that. In fact the mob would never have entered upon that career of outrage but for the fact that it was fired and maddened by the prejudice which had been generated by the ruling influences, civil and social, here in New York, till it had enveloped the City like some infernal atmosphere. The physical outrages which were inflicted on the black race in those terrible days were but the outburst of malignant agencies which had been transfusing the whole community from top to bottom, year after year.

How astonishingly has all this been changed! The same men who could not have shown themselves in the most obscure street in the City without peril of instant death, even though in the most suppliant attitude, now march in solid platoons, with shouldered muskets, slung knapsacks, and buckled cartridge-boxes down through our gayest avenues and our busiest thoroughfares to the pealing strains of martial music, and are everywhere saluted with waving handkerchiefs, with descending flowers, and with the acclamations and plaudits of countless beholders. They are halted at our most beautiful square, and, amid an admiring crowd, in the presence of many of our most prominent citizens, are addressed in an eloquent and most complimentary speech by the President of our chief literary institution, and are presented with a gorgeous stand of colors in the name of a large number of the first ladies of the City, who attest on parchment, signed by their own fair hands, that they "will anxiously watch your career, glorying in your heroism, ministering to you when wounded and ill, and honoring your martyrdom with benedictions and with tears."

It is only by such occasions that we can at all realize the prodigious revolution which the public mind everywhere is experiencing. Such developments are infallible tokens of a new epoch.

The Metropolitan Police Bill at Albany.—We find the following paragraph in the Albany correspondence of the Tribune:

> Albany, March 4, 1864.
>
> The Assembly Committee on Cities met yesterday, and among others considered the Police Commissioners Bill. A numerous lobby was in attendance, and several speeches were made, all in opposition to the Senate bill, and mostly in favor of that introduced in the Assembly some time ago, which substitutes Messrs Marshall and Campbell for Messrs. Acton and Bergen, as the Union Commissioners. No one was found to say one word in favor of the Senate bill.
> It is believed that a majority of the committee, of both parties, came to the meeting disposed to report favorably on the Senate bill, but this one-sided demonstration staggered the committee so thoroughly that they did not know what to do.

We trust the Committee will recover from the staggering effect of what is very justly styled this "one-sided demonstration." If they fall into the error of supposing that the lobbyists who appeared before them to denounce the Senate bill represent any considerable portion of the people of this city, they will do great injustice to themselves and to the city. Beyond a small clique of selfish political wire-pullers, who wish for tools of their own instead of men who will serve the public as Police Commissioners, we know absolutely nobody in this city who does not desire the appointment of Messrs. Acton and Bergen. They have done their duty with intelligence, energy, and independence; and, unless it has been decided to make the Commission a mere political machine, they ought not to be removed. Their services during the riots were invaluable, and are thoroughly appreciated by the great body of our citizens.

We presume that, as usual, those who have the welfare of the City at heart have left this matter to take care of itself; and the result, as usual, has been that the scheming, selfish political tricksters of the City have had the field to themselves. We hope it is not yet too late to remedy this error.

It is generally understood that if the Senate bill passes the Assembly, it will receive the Governor's signature. This will be a final and most satisfactory adjustment of a controversy which threatens to damage very seriously the best interests of the City. The Commission, as constituted by that bill, is just and fair to all political parties, and will be in the hands of men in whom the great body of our people have confidence.

Last Week's Attempt on Richmond.—Our latest "on to Richmond" attempt has at least this cheerful feature—that our forces got nearer to the rebel Capital than any Union force has yet done in any of the numerous attempts upon it. "Little Mac" at one time had his army planted within five miles of the city, and in the early part of last year Stoneman's cavalry got within three. But Kilpatrick last week was actually within two miles and a half of Richmond, having penetrated to the second exterior line of rebel works, and having thrown shells very near to Jeff. Davis' head. If we continue to make progress at this rate, we may ultimately hope to enter the city of our desire.

We this morning supplement the imperfect accounts of last week's notable raid which we have previously published, by a full and vivid history, penned by our special correspondent, who accompanied the expedition. He does not state the main object for which an expedition of such risk and magnitude was undertaken, but the Richmond Dispatch of Wednesday last fancies it might have been an "attempt to release the Union prisoners on Belle Isle," and this rebel theory is not altogether incredible. This purpose, however, it did not achieve. What it did accomplish will be found fully set forth. There can be no doubt that all the railroads that connect Lee's army with the rebel capital have been rendered unserviceable for some time, and it would seem that an excellent opportunity was furnished Gen. Meade to attack the army of Lee had the former felt himself strong enough for the work. We suppose he did not.

Whether the expedition effected its main object or not, it effected a good deal, and it certainly furnished an excellent exercise for our daring troopers.

The Florida Expedition.

The Opposition newspapers are making a good deal of clamor against the Administration on account of the recent disastrous expedition into Florida under Gen. Seymour. It has been alleged that the expedition was undertaken by express direction of President Lincoln, and that its objects were mainly political,—the reorganization of the State Government and the election of a member of Congress. In consequence of some statements on the subject in Congress, a resolution was adopted directing the Committee on the Conduct of the War to inquire into it.

The Washington Republican gives the following statement on this subject:

> "We can positively state from official information which will be laid before the committee, that the recent campaign into Florida was initiated, guided and controlled by Gen. Gillmore himself, upon consultation with certain naval officers, who joined with the General in obtaining the President's consent to its execution. Gen. Gillmore will not hesitate to confirm this statement. The responsibility of the defeat at Olustee rests immediately upon Gen. Seymour, who commanded our forces in that battle. In the true sense of the word, the responsibility is with Gen. Gillmore, who will not shrink from assuming it.
> Much stress has been laid upon the fact that Mr. John Hay, Assistant Private Secretary of the President, was commissioned a Major and sent to Florida. That matter is easily explained. It was not until after the President gave his consent that Gen. Gillmore, in coöperation with a naval force, should undertake the expedition, that the idea of sending Mr. Hay to report to Gen. Gillmore was thought of. Mr. Hay, desiring more active life, made a personal application to the President to go with the expedition, and the latter consented, commissioned Mr. Hay, and ordered him to report to Gen. Gillmore, who subsequently informed the President, officially, that he (Gillmore) had ordered Maj. Hay to proceed to Florida to superintend certain civil and military duties under the Amnesty Proclamation."

The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial publishes a still more detailed official explanation of the whole affair,—on the authority of the President himself. We copy it as follows:

> "Application was made, within the last twenty-four hours, for an authentic explanation of the part the President, the Secretary of War, and the General-in-Chief, respectively had in the expedition. It was given, and I subjoin it. I have no hesitation to say that it was obtained at the White House.
>
> 'The President denies distinctly, especially and emphatically, that he has given any instructions or orders to Gen. Gillmore, requiring, directly or impliedly, any movement of his command into Florida with either military or political objects. He says that Gen. Gillmore had no other instructions in regard to the restoration of Florida to the Union, under the Amnesty Proclamation, than those sent to him through Major Hay. They have appeared in the public prints some time since, and as they did not call for the occupation of the State by the forces in his Department of the South, Gen. Gillmore must have undertaken the expedition entirely upon his own responsibility.
>
> It is strictly true that neither Secretary Stanton nor Gen. Halleck had any official knowledge or intimation of the intention of Gen. Gillmore to enter upon a regular campaign in Northern Florida, and the first intelligence they had of his projects was received through the newspapers. Gen. Halleck, upon hearing of the contemplated operations, addressed a letter to Gen. Gillmore, inquiring for the authority under which he was undertaking them. Gen. Gillmore's reply was that he was acting under the special orders of the President of the United States.
>
> Gen. Gillmore's answer was received about ten days ago. It was, of course, an 'astonisher' of much force to both the Secretary of War and the General-in-Chief, in the absence of any information, written or verbal, on the subject, from the President. What their views were relative to what they could but consider an undue Executive interference, may be easily imagined. In some way or other, they became known outside of the War Office, and the opinion became general, in the course of last week, that on the President's shoulders rested all the responsibilities in the premises. That this opinion culminated in great indignation, when the news of the defeat of Gen. Seymour reached here, will be readily understood.
>
> Gen. Gillmore's dispatches relative to the disaster reached Gen. Halleck on Friday night. Owing to their calling, it is supposed, for some immediate action on the part of the War Department, Secretary Stanton submitted the matter to the President on Saturday morning. Explanations, of course, ensued. It was then that the President made a statement, the substance of which, above given, he repeated the next day to other parties. The Secretary, beyond doubt, was greatly surprised at the unexpected development.
> Thus the matter stands at present. Gen. Gillmore has been written to, it is understood, for an explanation. It is presumed here that he undertook the expedition under a mistaken construction of the Presidents instructions relative to the mission of John Hay."

The matter will, of course, be made the subject of official inquiry; but it is quite clear, from the tenor of these articles, that the responsibility for the expedition will rest upon the General commanding the Department.

AMUSEMENTS.

The "Faust" Matinée on Saturday was an extraordinary success, and will help materially to cover the losses of some of the preceding evenings. Long before the time of opening the doors they were besieged by a dense crowd of ladies. When the opera commenced the house was filled, up stairs and down, to its greatest capacity. Many hundred fair ones had to turn from the scene of their anticipated pleasure and decline on inferior entertainments. Not even during the Piccolomini furore was there such an excitement. The performance was in all respects admirable. There was one change in the cast, necessitated by the continued indisposition of Miss Kellogg. Owing to this cause the rôle of Margherita had to be entrusted to Mlle. Frederici-Himmer, who sang it in German, and was quite successful. The music belongs properly to the mezzo-soprano voice, and is therefore easily within the range of the German prima donna's powers. When Mr. Anschutz's company gave "Faust" we spoke favorably of Mlle. Frederici-Himmer's impersonation of the heroine. It did not suffer by the excellent surroundings of Mr. Maretzek's company.

To-night Verdi's opera of "Ernani" will be revived here. The distribution includes all the great artists of the troupe.

Mr. L. F. Harrison was not so fortunate in the matter of weather as was his neighbor Mr. Maretzek. It began to rain heavily towards night, and did not leave off until all the mischief had been done; nevertheless, Irving Hall presented a gay and brilliant appearance, and the Testimonial Concert was certainly one of the most admirable affairs of the season. The programme was carried out to the letter, (without the assistance of the members of the Liederkranz, however,) and was warmly and heartily applauded. The orchestral pieces were finely rendered by Messrs. Bergmann and Thomas; the "Faust" march brought down the house, as it always does; Mr. Bruno Wollenhaupt played Ernst's very difficult "Othello" fantasia with a combination of power and grace that left nothing to be desired, and this, too, in spite of an atmosphere that rendered it almost impossible to keep the violin in tune. We trust that this admirable artist will shorten the intervals of his visits to the Concert-room. Mr. Mills played Chopin's well known waltz, and a brilliant étude in C sharp minor, by himself; and in the second part, two movements from Chopin's E minor concerto. We have never heard this superb artist to such advantage as in the Romanza of this work. Nothing could well exceed the clearness, elevation and feeling which he infused into those lovely strains. The Rondo was also most grandly interpreted. We need only add that Mr. Mills was received with tumultuous applause, not merely by the audience, but by the members of the orchestra. The vocal artists were Mad. Medori and Signor Mazzoleni. The lady was in fine voice, and looked charming. She was eminently successful in the air from "Robert le Diable," and as an encore sang a pleasing coquettish little chanson. In the second part, and with Signor Mazzoleni, she sang the duo from "Poliuto," receiving, of course, another encore. Signor Mazzoleni opened with an Italian ballad, by Mici, which he sang with astonishing energy and taste. It fairly electrified the audience, and had to be repeated. It is, indeed, a treat to hear such an artist in the concert-room. Mr. Abella presided at the piano, Mr. Timm playing the accompaniments for Mr. Wollenhaupt. An overture by Mr. Charles Fradel opened the second part of the programme. It is written in the old classic vein, and is appropriate for Molière's comedy, which it precedes.

To-night Mrs. Hoey, the best actress on the New-York stage, and a lady whose excellencies are patent to the community, will take her annual benefit at Wallack's Theatre. Boucicault's comedy of "London Assurance" is the attraction. At the Winter Garden the "Ticket-of-Leave Man" still remains on the programme. (The statement, by the way, that the Florences had withheld their salaries from the funds raised for the Sanitary Commission, is untrue. The entire receipts of the performance at the Winter Garden were handed over to the Commissioners.) At Niblo's Garden the Richings appear to-night in the "Daughter of the Regiment." At the Olympic the new comedy of "Taming a Butterfly" is the attraction. At Barnum's Museum a new and gorgeous fairy spectacle, called "Aphrosia, or the Spirit of Beauty," will be brought out this evening. It has been in preparation for many months. At the Theatre Français to-morrow (Tuesday) evening "La Marraine," "Tromb-al-Cazar," and "Le Pour et le Contre."

On Wednesday Mr. Gottschalk will give another performance at Niblo's Saloon.

Mr. Hackett is engaged for five nights at the Park Theatre, and will appear to-night as Falstaff, in "King Henry IV."

The Second Army Corps—War Meeting at Tammany Hall.

The energetic efforts making to fill the ranks of the veteran regiments of the Second Army Corps are to receive further impetus at Tammany Hall, to-night, by a grand war meeting, gotten up under the auspices of the war sachems of that warlike institution. Elijah F. Purdy, war-horse, will preside. Gen. Hancock, Gen. Viele, Jas. T. Brady, Esq., and Judge Dean, will positively be present and speak. Gens. Dix and Meagher, and Recorder Hoffman, are also confidently expected. These efforts of the influential sachems and followers of Tammany are so gratifying and patriotic as to insure a very large attendance, and an enthusiastic and liberal response. It will be a very interesting occasion.

Caving in of a Well on Henry-street—Two Boys and a Girl Carried Down—One Boy Buried Alive.

A sad accident occurred on Saturday afternoon last, in front of the premises No. 83 Henry-street, whereby a boy named Thomas P. McMahon, aged 11 years, came to his death by being buried alive. Some workmen were engaged in the work of filling in an old well located in front of the above number, near the sidewalk, when the earth suddenly gave way. A large portion of the sidewalk went down, carrying with it the lad McMahon and another boy named Wm. Kearney, residing at No. 95 Henry-street, and a little girl, named Maggie Moore, of No. 92 Henry-street. They were all standing near the well at the time, and were carried down a distance of some ten or twelve feet. Fortunately, the mass of falling earth and stones jammed at this distance, and thus two lives were saved. The well was some forty feet deep. The men immediately set to work to rescue the two children, William Kearney and Maggie Moore, who were seen in the mass below, but the lad McMahon, was buried under it; and, moreover, his fall had not been noticed. The little girl was not buried alive, and was promptly rescued, a rope being thrown her. The lad, Kearney, was buried up to his chest: it was ascertained that his body was firmly wedged between a large flag-stone and an ash-box, both of which had been carried down into the opening. The earth around consists principally of sand, and was constantly falling upon the imprisoned boy. The danger was imminent, for at any moment the adjoining earth might bury him alive. Sergeant Easterbrook, of the Seventh Precinct, was on hand, and aided very materially in the work of saving the boy's life. After much effort young Kearney was rescued, without having sustained serious injuries. As no other person was seen to fall into the excavation, no further search was made at the time. A policeman was, however, stationed there to prevent accidents.

Late at night young McMahon, who resided with his parents at No. 83 Henry-street, was found to be missing. It was at once suspected that he had been buried beneath the falling earth. The parents and friends became greatly alarmed, and caused measures to be taken to find the boy if possible. Alderman McMahon hearing of the state of things, went to the spot, employed laborers, who began digging and searching for the missing boy. After several hours hard labor without meeting with the object of their search, the labor was suspended until daylight yesterday morning, when it was resumed. After digging about an hour young McMahon was found buried in the earth, deep beneath the sidewalk. As a matter of course, life had long been extinct. Coroner Naumann was notified, and will hold an inquest on the body to-day, when the matter will be thoroughly investigated. It is believed that there was some gross negligence on the part of those having charge of the job of filling up the well. The excitement the occurrence created in the vicinity was intense.

The Closing of the Sanitary Fair.—The great Sanitary Fair virtually closed on Saturday night, although the Academy proper will be kept open for two or three days longer at greatly reduced prices, in order to accommodate those who felt themselves unable to pay seventy-five cents. Single admissions will hereafter be twenty-five cents, and season tickets will be of no avail. The proceeds of the sale of goods will, as heretofore, be devoted to the purpose for which the fair was established; but the receipts at the door will be kept as a special fund to be distributed to such worthy objects as the Executive and Special Committees may deem most beneficial. The total receipts, as officially announced on Saturday evening, were $365,000. This is independent of a large amount of bills and checks, still uncounted, and which it is estimated will reach from $20,000 to $25,000, making the whole sum realized, above every expense, at from $385,000 to $390,000. The receipts during the coming week will doubtless swell the amount to $400,000. The population of the City of Brooklyn at the last census in 1860, was 266,674—it may now be over 300,000—thus showing that considerable more than one dollar per head, for each inhabitant, has been given in aid of the Sanitary Commission. The success of the enterprise has been beyond all expectation; and the ladies and gentlemen who devoted all their time in contributing to its success are worthy of all praise

PANAMA.

Affairs in Central America—The "People's Congress"—Encroachments of France and Spain on the American Continent.

Panama, Friday, Feb. 26, 1864.

In accordance with the recent arrangement to shorten the time one day of the steamers of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, between San Francisco and Panama, the Constitution arrived this morning in 13 days from the former port. She brings $2,600,000 in gold. About two millions of this, part of which is on account of the Government of the United States, will go to England from Aspinwall on the 6th March.

The State of Panama is quiet, and trade, from this city to places on the coast of the State of Cauca and Ecuador, which has been for some time interrupted by the war with Ecuador, has been resumed. The substance of the new treaty between Columbia and Ecuador, is given under another head. We have no later news from the interior than that furnished in my last. The enemies of President Mosquera in this city, however, profess to entertain high hopes that the revolution against him in the State of Antioquia will be fatal to his rule and to the Liberal party—but in this, I apprehend they will be disappointed.

Our new President, Señor Manuel Murillo, did not reach Aspinwall by last steamer from New-York. Gov. Santacoloma, and several other officials, went to Aspinwall with the expectation of meeting him. He will be here by next steamer, and takes his place as President in April. Señor Pradilla, Colombian Minister to England, arrived here on the Ocean Queen from New-York.

The people and rulers of the Spanish American States are expecting great things from the "Congress of the Peoples," soon to be held in this City. The invitation from the President of Peru to the other rulers has been made public. The object is to see what is to be done about the recent encroachments of Spain and France upon this Continent, and to concert measures of resistance to further attempts at domination by European Powers. No doubt such a Congress, if participated in by the United States, would be of immense importance, and result in great good to the South American States. Otherwise the Congress will lose its time, for the protests of these little Republics will not go for much with such Powers as France and Spain. The Mercurio, of Valparaiso, says, in regard to this contemplated Congress:

> "At the eleventh hour, the press has proclaimed the welcome news of the invitation addressed by the Government of Peru to the South American Republics, to an American Congress, whose object will be the providing for the common defence not only of the Territory, but of the Democratic institutions of America.
> Such tidings must fill with rejoicing the hearts of every true American; and adequately to appreciate it, we refer our readers to the circular of the Peruvian Government, which we reproduce, accompanied by some brief comments."

Several persons of prominence here and in at Aspinwall have died since my last. The first, Walter C. Cleeman, for a long time connected with the Panama Railroad Company, died at La Union, Salvador, on the 12th inst., of dysentery. He had gone to Salvador on one of the Company's vessels, for a change of climate. Mr. Cleeman was highly respected and even loved by all who knew him on this coast. He was a native of Virginia. The second death was that of Alfred Brant, late of New-York, who had been connected as building contractor with the Railroad Company for eight or ten years. He died at Aspinwall, of consumption, on the 23d inst. Mr. Brant was a native of New-York State; aged 36 years. He was buried in the Free Masons' Cemetery. The funeral service was read at the grave by the United States Consul. The third death was that of a beautiful and estimable young lady of Panama, Señorita Maria del Rosario Alvarado, who fell dead, probably from disease of the heart, while dressing, on the morning of the 23d. This latter death has cast great gloom over the female society of Panama, by whom she was tenderly loved.

Alfred Rubery, one of the Chapman pirates, pardoned by President Lincoln at the instance of John Bright, of England, arrived in Panama from San Francisco on the steamship St. Louis.

A new paper, to be published twice a week, called the Mercantile Chronicle, made its appearance in Panama on the 22d. It is edited with ability.

The Panama Railroad Company's brig Costa Rica takes fifteen sacks of coffee to New-York, a contribution from the Americans resident in San José, Costa Rica, to the Sanitary Fund, and forwarded, free of freight, through the kindness of Capt. J. M. Dow, of the Railroad Company's steamship Guatemala. Considering that there are but half-a-dozen Americans in San José, this contribution shows that our worthy Minister there, Mr. Riotte, is blessed with a proportionably larger resident Union constituency than we can boast hereabouts. The majority of us Americans here, if not well-wishers of the Confederates, are, to say the least, open to the charge of being very lukewarm friends of the North.

The United States sloop-of-war Cyane is still in port. The United States sloop-of-war St. Mary's is in Valparaiso. The flagship Lancaster, Admiral Bell, and the gunboat Saginaw, are at Acapulco.

Our ice has again given out—the brig Panama, which has been out from Boston thirty-one days, for Aspinwall, not having yet arrived.

The Panama Railroad Company's brig Costa Rica arrived at Aspinwall from New-York on the 23d, having made a long passage, in consequence of head winds and the loss of her main-topmast.

The steamship America, of Roberts' line, left Panama for San Francisco on the 21st, with the passengers by the Illinois, which sailed from New-York on the 3d.

The British screw steamer Askalon, for Liverpool, is at Aspinwall, to sail to-morrow via Carthagena.

CENTRAL AND SOUTH AMERICA.

News from Valparaiso and Chili—Treaty between Ecuador and Colombia—New Coinage of Currency in Peru—Miscellaneous Matters, &c.

Panama, Friday, Feb. 26, 1864.

By the British mail steamship Peru, which arrived here on the 20th inst., we have dates from Valparaiso and Santiago de Chili to Feb. 2, and from Lima and Callao to the 14th. The Peru brought $369,000 in specie, passengers, and a general cargo of wool, bark, cotton, tobacco, copper, &c., mostly for England. The news is unimportant.

ECUADOR.

The "additional treaty," mentioned in the late treaty between Colombia and Ecuador, is published. The treaty is one of alliance between the two countries—the most important articles of which are the second, third, fourth and seventh. These articles are:

> To prevent any intervention by force tending to assist any political party or to change any institutions in the two republics—to abolish the custom-houses on the frontier, and to make uniform the weights, measures and coins in both States—"to maintain the integrity of the territory of the old Colombia"—and to forget all former motives for quarrelling, excepting the rights of private individuals to make claims for indemnification of their losses and damages caused by either government.

The former Granadian minister in Quito, Manuel M. Castro, has returned to his post on a special mission of his government, namely, to congratulate the Ecuadorian Government upon the re-establishment of peace.

Mosquera has given still another proof of his so suddenly returned friendship for Ecuador, by derogating the second article of his decree of Dec. 7, in which he ordered a column to be erected on the Cuaspud hill in memory of the battle fought there on the previous day.

By a decree of the Governor of Guayaquil, Jan. 29, and in consideration of the scarcity of provisions in that port, there have been exempted from duties the following articles: rice, beans, peas, lentils, potatoes, live hogs and calves, and salt meat.

PERU.

The chief matter of interest from this Republic is the reform in the currency. The business of the country has heretofore been transacted principally in the depreciated half dollars and quarters of Bolivia, intrinsically worth about 74 cents on the dollar. And this money was a good deal mixed with spurious coin having but very little silver in it.

For some time past, Government has been conducting negotiations with some of the leading houses in Lima for the conversion of this miserable Bolivian currency, and the introduction instead of a new standard national coinage. A contract was concluded with the firms of OTAGUI BROTHERS and GRAHAM, ROWE & Co., whereby all the Bolivian coin is to be sent out of the country or melted in Lima in the course of two years—an entirely new currency established, and an exchange on London fixed—a reform which will be most advantageous for business, and beneficial to the extension of the commercial relations of the country. Apart from the actual guaranties which Government receives from the contractors, the country has the high moral guaranty which the position of these houses in the commercial world at home and abroad affords, that the contract will be faithfully and honorably fulfilled.

Last January this bad coin began to cross the Isthmus for shipment to England to be recoined, one steamer from Aspinwall having taken $700,000 of it.

A good deal of dissatisfaction existed among the holders of certain Peruvian bonds in England, at being obliged to receive payment for their coupons in United States Treasury notes from the agents of the Peruvian Government in New-York. A memorial on the subject to the Peruvian Government, having no effect, the bond holders held a meeting, and protested strongly against the course pursued. This called out the following order from the Lima Government:

LIMA, Jan. 28, 1864.

The resolution of Nov. 26, 1862, being reconsidered in view of the exposition presented to Government on May 24, of last year, by WM. GRAIN, Esq., notary public of London, in the name of the holders of certain bonds belonging to the national debt in favor of New-Granada and Ecuador, ordered, that the second article of said resolution be modified thus far, that the payments of said debt shall be made in specie or its equivalent, so that the English holders of bonds of said debt receive as much as four shillings for each dollar—all the other articles of the resolution remaining in force.

Exchange on London 90-days, 37 pence per dollar, Bolivian currency. Freights of guano to England, £3 15s.; to France, 100 to 105 francs; to United States, nothing offering.

The amount of guano exported from the Chincha Islands in 1863 was 313,479 tons register. The whole value of the exports of guano and other products from the port of Callao in 1863, was $22,469,802; and the whole amount from all the ports of the Republic was $32,508,610.

BOLIVIA.

This Republic is quiet. The new treaty between Peru and Bolivia makes commerce between the two countries free; and the judicial acts of one Republic are good and valid in the other. All differences to be referred to arbitrators.

CHILI.

A convention has been agreed upon between Bolivia and Chili, which is to settle all questions in dispute, including the vexed question of jurisdiction over the Mejellones guano beds.

The people of Valparaiso having suffered severely from an insufficiency of water the past season, will accept one of the plans offered for furnishing an ample supply of the article.

The elections for Congress being near at hand, the people in public meetings are discussing the reforms required for the country, among which is tolerance in religion—a subject made more prominent by the terrible affair at Santiago on the 8th December.

Some of the Joint Stock Companies of Chili have paid large profits the past year. The Copiapo Railroad has paid enormously, as usual. The "Chili Insurance Company" divides $100,000, with a reserve fund of $408,000, and a balance of profits carried into 1864 of $27,939. The Street Railway Company will get 16 per cent. in 1864.

On the 19th of January the Government of Chili published the legalized budget for 1864, distributed as follows:

The Home and Foreign Ministries	$1,292,876 82
The Ministers of Justice, Public Worship and Instruction	1,141,799 27
The Ministry of Finance	3,412,429 89
The War Ministry	1,936,313 03
Total	$7,783,419 00

The capital city, Santiago, had issued proposals for a loan of $600,000 at 7½ @ 8 per cent., and $2,183,000 were at once offered.

It was lately announced that Government had renewed their postal contract for a period of five years with the Pacific Steam Navigation Company. The decree has now been officially sanctioned and promulgated; and on the part of the Steam Company the magnificent new steamers which are now to run on the coast will more and more efficiently carry out their share of the contract.

From the Chiloe line, this company has now placed and is to continue one of their largest and best steamers; and will next month add another of their fleet on this station, when there will be weekly sailings South from Valparaiso.

The general business of the country is good and in a very healthy state.

For months past there has been a steady continuance of sufficient supplies of imports, with demand enough to prevent overstock in merchants' hands. Trade circulars speak of "no improvement in activity," but a wholesome trade in all branches is being done.

Charters are not quite so good; but a fortnight of few arrivals will restore the rates of freight to England to the average of £4 per ton. £4 10s. and £4 6s. have been paid for British vessels for wool and copper to New-York and Boston.

Exchange on London 44d.@44½d. per dol.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

The Panama Railroad Company's steamship Guatemala, from Central American ports, reached Panama on the 20th. Dates from Guatemala are to the 12th, Labrador 15th, Nicaragua to the 16th and Costa Rica to the 18th. It will be seen that the dates from Nicaragua are not so late as those sent you by fast steamer, which came to Aspinwall via Greytown. There is not a single item of interest from any quarter. The freight list of the Guatemala has the following:

For Southampton—139 seroons indigo; 4 seroons cochineal; 23 pkgs. sundries. For Liverpool—47 seroons indigo; 268 bales cotton; 139 bags coffee; 2 cans balsam. For New-York—16 seroons indigo; 73 bales cotton; 366 bags coffee; 3 cans balsam; 20 bales deerskins; 3 pkgs. sundries; 3 pkgs. India-rubber; 1,678 hides. For Aspinwall—6 cans balsam. For San Francisco—200 bags coffee. For South Pacific—60 bags rice; 62 seroons indigo; 40 bags coffee; 2 pkgs. sundries. For Panama—26 seroons indigo; 176 bags coffee; 54 bags rice; 209 pkgs. sugar; 6 bags almonds; 4 jars oil; 3 pkgs. sundries; 322 hides.

SPECIE.

For England—17 packages	$19,245 93

Military Officers and Soldiers should have them in readiness upon the first appearance of a Cold or Cough.

Morton's Gold Pens are now sold at the same prices as before the commencement of the war; this is entirely owing to the Manufacturer's improvements in machinery, his present large Retail Business and Cash-in-Advance System; for, until he commenced advertising, his business was done on Credit and strictly with the Trade.

The Morton Gold Pens are the only ones sold at old prices, as the makers of all other gold pens charge the Premium on the Gold, Government Tax, &c.; but Morton has in no case changed his prices, Wholesale or Retail.

Of the great numbers sent by mail to all parts of the world during the past few years, not one in a thousand has failed to reach its destination in safety; showing that the Morton Gold Pen can be obtained by any one, in every part of the world, at the same price, postage only excepted.

Reader, you can have an enduring, always ready, and reliable Gold Pen, exactly adapted to your hand and style of writing, which will do your writing vastly cheaper than Steel Pens; and at the present almost universal High-Pressure Price of everything, you can have a Morton Gold Pen cheaper, in proportion to the labor spent upon it and material used, than any other Gold Pen in the World. If you want one, see "The Pen is Mightier than the Sword." in another column.

TESTIMONIAL FROM ONE OF THE MOST RESPECTABLE CITIZENS OF NEW-YORK.
DEAFNESS AND CATARRH CURED.

No. 420 SIXTH-AV., NEW-YORK, Dec. 2, 1863.

I was deaf for several years, and hearing of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I was induced to place myself under his care, and I am now happy to state that my hearing was entirely restored after a short treatment. I was also suffering from chronic catarrh, of which I was also cured by the skillful treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg. I do but justice to the Doctor in stating that in treating me he displayed that skill and knowledge which have already procured for him such a deserved reputation, and that the principles which direct his system of curing Deafness and Catarrh are such as to render success certain, in my opinion. Many months have passed since Dr. Von Eisenberg restored my hearing, and it continues as good as ever.

CATARRH CURED.
READ!

I have been suffering for a long time from a severe Catarrh, with a continual dullness in my head, a tightness across my chest, a weight over my eyes, which were weak, watery, and very painful. My nostrils were constantly obstructed with a pouring fluid. That frequent sneezing, hoarseness of my voice, often attended with a fullness of my throat, great soreness, and a continual dropping. Dr. Von Eisenberg has cured me of all these disagreeable sufferings. I may, indeed, say that I feel a new life. The treatment of Dr. Von Eisenberg is as skillful as it is successful. It is in my opinion impossible to overrate the benefit I have received at his hands. I heartily recommend any one suffering like myself to place themselves under Dr. Von Eisenberg's care, with a certainty of being speedily cured.

HARLEM, July 30, 1863.

I have been deaf for over TWENTY-FIVE YEARS, and Dr. VON EISENBERG operated on both of my ears without the slightest pain—a thing that I could not believe could be done. I now hear well, and feel as I never felt for the last twenty years. The dexterity and skill with which the operation was performed evince the highest practical ability. I hear perfectly. It is now over a month since the operation, and I continue to feel as well as ever.

WILLIAM LIDDLE,

No. 134 ALLEN-ST., NEW-YORK, Feb. 9, 1863.

I have been completely deaf in one ear, and partially so in the other, for above seventeen years, with a disagreeable discharge from both ears, combined with continual rumbling noise in the head, for which I have been treated by a most eminent practitioner in the City without the slightest relief.

I consulted Dr. Von Eisenberg, but I must candidly say that I had no faith in his success when I did so. It is, therefore, due to Dr. Von Eisenberg to acknowledge that I am entirely cured; also, that he displayed that skill and knowledge which have procured for him such an unrivaled reputation. As I have had an opportunity of comparing his mode of treatment with that of others, I can truly state that it is not only superior, but the principles which direct his mode of restoring the hearing are, in my opinion, certain.

JOHN TAYLOR.

NEW-YORK, July 19, 1862.

This certifies that my mother has been for some time afflicted with partial deafness, suffering from pain, and rumbling noises in the head, together with other indications of a total loss of hearing. Dr. Von Eisenberg removed from her ears a great quantity of matter, together with coagulated blood, relieving her instantaneously, and all without pain. It is with grateful thanks that I give this testimony to his skill.

CHRONIC CATARRH CURED.
READ.

NEW-YORK, March 20, 1863.

"This is to certify, that I have suffered from very severe CHRONIC CATARRH, with a dull heaviness in the head. I felt my nose completely stopped up accompanied by continual soreness of the throat, the chills stealing over me with occasional hot flushes, a great tightness of the chest, and pain, so much so, that every one thought it was consumption. Having heard of the great cures performed by Dr. Von Eisenberg, I consulted him with but little hope of a cure. I am now happy to be enabled to add my testimonial to the great number already in the Doctor's possession, as to his scientific and successful mode of treatment, as he has shown in my case that skill and knowledge which have procured for him so great a reputation. I am so entirely restored to perfect health that I do most sincerely recommend all sufferers from CHRONIC CATARRH and SORE THROAT to apply at once to Dr. Von Eisenberg with a certainty of being cured."

GLAD NEWS FOR THE UNFORTUNATE!
THE LONG-SOUGHT-FOR DISCOVERED AT LAST
CHEROKEE REMEDY
AND
CHEROKEE INJECTION!
COMPOUNDED FROM ROOTS, BARKS AND LEAVES.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic, cures all diseases of the urinary organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflammation of the Bladder, Inflammation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, and all diseases of a kindred nature, and is especially recommended in those cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

☞ It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

☞ It is diuretic and alterative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood, causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the CHEROKEE REMEDY, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all chronic diseases, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effects are healing, soothing and demulcent; removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurable pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

☞ By the use of the CHEROKEE REMEDY and CHEROKEE INJECTION—the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

☞ For full particulars, get our pamphlet from any drug-store in the country, or write us, and we will mail free, to any address, a full treatise.

☞ Price, CHEROKEE REMEDY, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

NOW READY:
12TH EDITION
OF
TIMOTHY TITCOMB'S NEW WORK,
LETTERS TO THE JONESES.—In 1 vol. 12mo. Cloth, $1 25; in cloth, full gilt, $2 00.

It exhibits shrewdness, humor, wit, observation, facility, and general satire, delicately conveyed—the blade is so keen and the aim so sure that the blow, though deadly, is without noise. The Letters are intended not alone for 'the Joneses,' but for society at large, and Dean Swift, who had a talent for perceiving and hitting the weak places in society's armor, would have rejoiced in the artistical manner in which the salient points are touched.—Philadelphia Press.

These are noble effusions, noble in their zeal and eloquence for the welfare of men, no less than attractive for the play of wit which never ceases to ornament them.—American Presbyterian.

A most genial and pleasing volume; the well put points he makes on many a page ought to be comprehended and made useful by thousands of persons outside of the race of Joneses.—Concord Journal.

It is full of good sense, good-natured hits, and wholesome truths, and there is hardly a reader but will continually be making application of these letters to some or other of his neighbors and acquaintances.—Buffalo Commercial.

Hitting the Joneses, he gets many a deserved rap at everybody; he shoots many an arrow which will find its way through the joints of many a man's armor.—Chicago Christian Times.

WHAT THE RURAL NEW-YORKER SAYS OF FLOWERS FOR THE PARLOR AND GARDEN.
BY EDW. SPRAGUE RAND.
BOSTON:
J. E. TILTON & CO.

"This is an admirable work. Just such a work was needed—is needed by every one, almost, who delights in window gardening. And a great many persons would take delight in it who do not, did they know how to take care of plants which they admire in other people's parlors. And they will learn, if they can purchase at a reasonable price, specific directions. From what we have seen of it, we think we can safely say that this work is the SPECIFIC they need. The mechanical execution of the book is very fine indeed; paper excellent, engravings ditto; letter-press clean and in excellent taste. But the chief recommendation is that the matter is practical, detailed, specific, so as to meet the wants of all who love flowers and would cultivate them in windows or gardens. We are aware that this is high praise; but this work approaches more nearly what we have long been aware was needed, than any we have seen. We are delighted with it."

GEN. BUTLER COMPARED TO FREDERICK THE GREAT.
PARTON'S GEN. BUTLER AT NEW-ORLEANS continues its extraordinary sale, having already reached its twelfth edition. The first review of this work in the English press, just at hand, appears in the London Spectator. It is long and very favorable, concluding with the following paragraph:
"This biography leaves on our minds no doubt that the Union possesses in Gen. BUTLER a man of rare and original capacity, extraordinarily fitted for constructive administration, and without any tendency to cruelty, though with that indifference to the feelings of others so often marked in very strong men. Of all the men who fill our European history, the one he is most like—strangely like—is Frederick the Great."—London Spectator. Price, $2. Published by

MR. J. C. RAPELYEA, OF MONMOUTH County, New-Jersey, writes, March 19, 1859:
DYSENTERY CURED.
I was troubled in January last with costiveness for several days, and took ten grains of calomel to obtain relief. I caught cold, I suppose; at any rate, a severe diarrhœa set in, which my medical attendant found it impossible to arrest. This was followed by dysentery. My strength was all gone. Everything passed through me as I took it. A friend from New-York, Mr. George Lewis, fortunately called on me and advised BRANDRETH'S PILLS. I thought, in my weakened condition, one pill would be enough; but he administered four, and the next morning four more. Much impurity came from me, and, to my surprise, the soreness and pain diminished. One box cured me fully. I am now hearty, with a fine appetite. You are at liberty to publish this.

The Chicago and Great Eastern Railway Company now offer for sale one million one hundred thousand dollars of their first mortgage bonds, in sums of one thousand dollars each, maturing in thirty years, bearing interest at the rate of Seven per cent. per annum, payable in the City of New-York, on the first days of April and October, in each year.

These bonds are secured by a first and only Mortgage on the property, income and franchises of the Railway Company, executed to Frederick Schuchardt and Henry Morgan, of the City of New-York, Trustees.

The remaining nine hundred thousand dollars of the Bonds are set apart and remain in the hands of the said Trustees, for the purpose of being exchanged for the indebtedness of the Chicago and Cincinnati Railroad Company, running from La Crosse to Logansport; this effected, the $2,000,000 will form a First and only Mortgage on a line of road 110 miles in length, extending from Chicago to Logansport, where it connects with the Cincinnati and Chicago Air-line Railroad, forming the shortest line by 40 miles, between Chicago and Cincinnati, and by 36 miles the shortest line between Louisville and Chicago.

It will also open, in connection with roads now in operation, entirely new and very direct lines from Chicago to New-York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and all Eastern cities. The distance between Chicago and New-York by this route being shorter than by either of the existing lines via Dunkirk or Buffalo.

The road is now under contract, and the most strenuous efforts are being made to have it open for traffic during the Summer of 1864.

The interest on the Bonds maturing during the progress of the work has been provided for, and will remain on deposit with the Bankers of the Company, Messrs SCHUCHARDT & GEBHARD, No. 21 Nassau-st., to whom the Company refer for further particulars, and where subscription books for this loan have been opened.

PRIVATE DISEASES CURED IN THE shortest possible time, by DR. WARD & CO., No. 50 Lispenard-st., near Broadway, without the use of Mercury, loss of time or change of diet. DR. WARD, from the hospitals of London, Paris, and Edinburgh, is the discoverer of the only certain and reliable remedies for diseases of a private character. In 28 years' practice he has cured more cases of Secret Diseases and Wrong Treatment than all others combined. I can and will cure you in less time and at less expense than any other can or will, and those who have been robbed of their money and health call: it will take but little money and time to restore you. If you have been unfortunate, call at once. By his special experience in this much neglected branch of medical science, he is enabled to guarantee a cure in the most complicated cases. Recent cases of Gonorrhœa or Syphilis cured in a few days, without change of diet or hindrance from business. Secondary Syphilis—the last vestige eradicated without the use of Mercury. Involuntary emissions stopped in a short time. Sufferers from Impotency, or loss of sexual power, restored to full vigor in a few weeks, permanently and speedily cured by a new treatment. Persons at a distance failing to receive prompt treatment elsewhere, may get a permanent cure effected by writing a full diagnosis of their case, addressed to Dr. WARD, No. 50 Lispenard-st. Call, send, or write.

SPEEDY RELIEF AND SURE CURE GUARANTEED.—Therefore, let no false delicacy prevent your immediate application to Dr. POWERS. Dr. POWERS successfully consulted with Dr. WARD No. 50 Lispenard-st. Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris, where those afflicted with any form of private disease can receive prompt treatment, without risk or exposure, viz.: Syphilis, gonorrhœa, gleet, strictures, ulcers, tumors, cancers, secondary and constitutional syphilis, diseases of the kidneys, &c., &c. Thirty years of extensive practice, exclusively devoted to the treatment of those complaints, enable us to effect cures in cases where others of less experience have failed. Dr. Powers' Essence of Life restores the vigor of youth in four weeks. This marvelous agent restores manhood to the most shattered constitution—physical disqualifications, impediments to marriage, speedily cured. The men to consult. Drs. Ward and Powers, the champions and kings of venereal diseases, possessing the most certain, speedy and only effectual remedies in the world. Those who have used their preventives are never without. Send for a circular. To Ladies.—Dr. Powers' Periodical Drops are a safe and certain remedy for monthly irregularities. The above remedies sent by mail. The afflicted should read their circular. Postage free, on receipt of a stamp. Cures warranted.

AFFLICTED RESTORED! IGNORANCE EXPOSED! FALLACIES UNMASKED!—Highly important to both sexes, married or single, in health or disease. Mailed for $1, closely sealed, by the publisher, E. WARNER, No. 1 Vesey-st., Astor House.

All who would avoid unsuccessful and barbarous treatment with mercury, copaiba, injections, cauterizations, quack specifics, antidotes, instruments, &c., should read this original book, or consult the Doctor, No. 173 Broadway, (up stairs,) N. Y., from 10 to 5.

Mauriceau, Professor of Diseases of Women, designed especially for the married or those about to be married, points out the mode of treatment to remove obstructions, irregularities, or her other ailments, as mother or wife, with the causes and symptoms, and what best to do. THE RICHMOND RAID.

my crossed at Ely's Ford a brigade of cavalry and several pieces of artillery. The enemy's column passed through Spottsylvania Court-house at eleven o'clock Sunday night. This is considered reliable.

YANKEE RAIDS ON THE VIRGINIA CENTRAL RAILROAD—EXCITING RUMORS OF THE ENEMY'S MOVEMENTS.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 1.

Yesterday afternoon intelligence reached the city that a heavy column of Yankees had made their appearance in the neighborhood of Frederick's Hall, on the Virginia Central Railroad, fifty miles from Richmond. The statement was somewhat startling, because of the known fact that the greater portion of the reserve artillery of the Army of Northern Virginia was quartered at that point, and without an adequate force for its protection. Later in the afternoon the report reached the city that the whole of the artillery, amounting to some eighty pieces, had been captured, but this in turn was contradicted by a statement that the enemy did not go to Frederick's Hall, but struck the railroad some two miles south of that point, where they tore up a portion of the railroad track. After inflicting this damage on the road they left, taking a southerly direction. We are inclined to think, from all the information we can gather in relation to the affair, that this latter statement is in the main correct. The raid is no doubt intended to interrupt communication between Gen. Lee's army and Richmond, but it is hoped that, like Stoneman's raid last Spring, it may prove a failure.

Passengers by the Fredericksburg train last night state that the Yankee force consisted of one brigade of cavalry and several pieces of artillery; that they crossed at Ely's Ford, on the Rappahannock, and passed through Spottsylvania Court-house about 11 o'clock on Sunday night.

A dispatch was also received yesterday afternoon from Col. Mallory, commanding at Charlottesville, that a cavalry force of the enemy were threatening that point, and that our troops were fighting them about three miles from the town. Late last night a report stated that they had been repulsed, and had retired.

The train which left this city yesterday morning carried as a passenger Gen. R. E. Lee, and for a while those who feed upon rumors had it circulated that the train had been captured, and Gen. Lee made prisoner. For this, however, there was no foundation, as information had been received of the safe arrival of the train at Gordonsville. Some uneasiness was felt in the early part of the evening for the safety of the down passenger train, due here at 7 o'clock, but it was ascertained later in the night that it, too, was safe.

DARING RAID OF THE ENEMY—THEY APPROACH WITHIN THREE MILES OF THE CITY.

From the Richmond Dispatch, March 2.

The raid of the enemy, so sudden and unexpected, has so completely interrupted telegraphic communication that little is known of the damage inflicted by them on the Virginia Central Railroad; but what little we have been able to ascertain leads to the belief that the injury to that road has been comparatively trifling.

After leaving Frederick's Hall, on Monday evening, the force seems to have divided, a portion of them passing through the upper part of Hanover County to the Fredericksburgh Railroad, which they are reported to have struck between Taylorsville and Ashland, and the others moving off through Louisa into Goochland County.

Early in the day yesterday nothing could be heard from Ashland, on account of the interruption of the telegraph line, and nothing could be learned of the column of the enemy that struck the railroad at that point until they appeared on the Brook Turnpike, a few miles from the city. This was about 10 o'clock A. M. They were gallantly met by a detachment of battery troops, commanded by Col. Stevens. After an engagement of some thirty minutes with light field pieces, they were driven off and retired in the direction of the Meadow Bridges, on the Central road. During the firing the enemy threw several shells at the fine mansion of Hon. James Lyons, one or two of which, we understand, passed through the building, but happily without inflicting any material damage. It was reported last night that this column had encamped about five miles from the city on the Mechanicsville road. In the fight on the Brook road, Col. Stevens had one man killed and seven wounded. This force of the enemy is variously estimated at from 1,000 to 5,000 cavalry, and a battery of artillery. The best information we have leads to the impression that their force at this point did not exceed 1,300. In the fight nothing but artillery was used.

The column that went into Goochland County paid a visit to the house of Hon. James A. Seddon, Secretary of War. We heard last night that the damage done by them on his place amounted to but little. They burnt two or three flouring-mills in the county, among them the Dover Mill, some twenty-five miles above the city. Gen. Henry A. Wise, who was at the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Hobson, in Goochland, narrowly escaped capture. He was at Mr. Hobson's when the enemy went to Mr. Seddon's place, and hearing of their presence in the neighborhood, he put out for Richmond, and arrived here about the middle of the day yesterday. This column of the enemy is said to have consisted of four regiments of cavalry and one battery of artillery. A report reached the city last night that a portion of them had crossed James River, whilst the others were moving in the direction of Richmond on the Westham Plankroad, with the view, it is conjectured, of forming a junction with the column that was repulsed on the Brook Turnpike. If it be true that any portion of them crossed James River—which was doubted at the War Office—their design doubtless is, in conjunction with those approaching on the Westham road, to attempt the release of the prisoners on Belle Isle. About nightfall musketry firing was heard on the plankroad, supposed to be about five miles distant from the city, and as a body of our troops had been sent in that direction, the inference is that they had come up with the approaching enemy. Of the result of the firing we had learned nothing up to the time of writing this article.

LATER.

Since writing the above, some fifteen prisoners, captured at different points along the line of the enemy's routes, have been brought in. They say that the column of their forces which approached on the Brook road are under Gen. Kilpatrick, and that the column which went into Goochland is commanded by Gen. Gregg. The main body of Kilpatrick's forces crossed the Chickahominy at Meadow Bridges late in the afternoon. The rear guard went into camp last night at the junction of the Mechanicsville and Meadow Bridges road.

Whilst in Goochland, Gregg's force burned the barn of Hon. J. A. Seddon. It is also reported that they carried off with them Mrs. Patterson Allan, who is under indictment for treason in the Confederate Court. This is only rumor, and should be received with allowance.

Kilpatrick's party visited the premises of Mr. John P. Ballard, about three miles from the city, and stole from his stables a pair of valuable carriage horses.

FEWS FROM WASHINGTON.

SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE N. Y. TIMES.

Washington, Sunday, March 6.

GEN. MEADE AND THE BATTLE OF GETTYSBURGH.

The War Committee had Gen. Meade before them on Saturday for over three hours. He denied the charges preferred against him by Gens. Sickles and Doubleday, and gave the Committee a full history of all the circumstances attending the battle of Gettysburgh, and also of his subsequent conduct. The order, which it is alleged he wrote, directing a retreat of the army to Taneytown, after the first day's engagement, was fully explained. He declared that it related to matters entirely foreign to those contained in the charges of Sickles and Doubleday. The Committee intend to follow up the matter, and have sent for Gen. Butterfield, who wrote the orders. Gens. Wadsworth and Hancock will also be called.

THE PRESIDENT AND SECRETARY CHASE.

An essentially incorrect statement as to the purport of the recent correspondence between Secretary Chase and Mr. Lincoln on the subject of the Presidency having been published in a Western journal and widely copied throughout the North, it is proper to say that the substance of the correspondence was as follows:

Mr. Chase asked whether there was any thing in his position that would prejudice the public interests under his charge. He did not wish to administer the Treasury Department one day, without the President's entire confidence.

To this Mr. Lincoln replied in a friendly letter of several pages, closing by saying that he did not perceive any occasion for any change.

THE GOLD BILL.

The Gold Bill will come up in the House to-morrow, after the morning hour, and Mr. Stebbins will endeavor to put it upon its passage. There is a decided majority in Congress favorable to legislation on this subject, and the only question is as to the kind of bill that should be passed.

THE RARITAN BAY RAILROAD TO BE A POST ROUTE.

The House Military Committee will to-morrow take up the question of making the Raritan Bay Railroad a post route. A report in favor of the scheme has been prepared by a member of the Committee to whom the subject was referred. It is a matter of considerable importance, involving the principle of Federal and State authority.

NEW-LONDON NAVY YARD.

The House Naval Committee, on Wednesday, will visit New-London, to examine the proposed site of the new Navy Yard there. The Committee, on their return, will visit another place near New-York, which is said to possess advantages superior to those of any of the other places named.

A CAVALRY BRIGADE TO BE RAISED.

Col. L. C. Baker has received authority from the War Department to raise a cavalry brigade for special service.

DISPATCHES TO THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Washington, Sunday, March 6.

THE EMANCIPATION CABINET MEETING ON CANVAS.

Mr. F. B. Carpenter, of New-York, an artist of celebrity, is now engaged at the Presidential mansion in preparing model sketches of all the Cabinet officers who were present on the occasion of the first reading of the President's Emancipation Proclamation, preparatory to transferring the same to canvas. The rough portraits of the President, Secretaries Chase, Stanton and Welles, are true to life. Some three months will be consumed in the execution of the painting.

GEN. MEADE'S VISIT.

The visit of Maj.-Gen. Meade to Washington is reported to be in connection with the reorganization of the several army corps under his command.

GENERAL HOWE.

Brig.-Gen. Albion P. Howe, lately commanding a division of the Sixth Corps, has been transferred to the post of Chief-of-Artillery, vice Brig.-Gen. Barry, ordered to Gen. Grant's Department. Gen. Howe has been in the field uninterruptedly from the beginning of the war, and is regarded as a most efficient and accomplished officer.

THE REVENUE BILL.

It is supposed that the Amendatory Internal Tax Bill will not be reported from the Committee of Ways and Means before to morrow week.

MONITOR NAVY-YARD.

It is understood that the House Committee on Naval Affairs has under consideration the establishment of navy-yards for the construction of monitors, and other subjects in that connection. The labors of that committee are now more than ordinarily onerous. They not only have meetings during the day, but often in the evening.

A PARDON.

At the request of Gen. Butler, President Lincoln has granted a free and full pardon to Cincinnatus W. Newton, of Norfolk, one of the electors from Virginia, who voted in the rebel electoral college, for Jeff. Davis for President of the Southern Confederacy. He is a brother of Maj.-Gen. Newton of our army.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The United States Supreme Court will be occupied during Monday with No. 158, De Larma Brooks vs. Warrick Martin, and the conclusion of the Quicksilver Mining case will probably be reached by Tuesday.

On Wednesday, No. 139, Russell Sage vs. the United States, will be taken up, to be succeeded by No. 165, Jones, Wallingford & Co., appellants, vs. Livingston, Copeland & Co., from the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Western Pennsylvania.

No. 168, the United States, appellants, vs. J. L. Folsom's Executors, from the United States District Court of Northern California.

OCEAN STEAM NAVIGATION.

The subject of ocean steam lines is attracting attention. The memorial of the Brazil Company is already before Congress, with many friends to support it. Some of the leading merchants of New-York and New-England have recently organized as a Mediterranean Company, with the design of establishing a line of steamers to Southern Europe. A Boston line of steamers to England is contemplated, and another to the Gulf of Mexico is organizing in New-York, while in the latter City the long mooted project of a Pacific line from California to China is again receiving attention in influential quarters here. These interests are, it is believed, all represented in this city. It is asserted that by the aid of reasonable compensation from Government for mail carriage, the ocean may be traversed with swift armed commercial steamers, the presence of which would render hazardous the career of rebel cruisers.

FROM NORTH CAROLINA.

Suppression of the Raleigh Standard by Order of Jeff. Davis—The Rebel Rams in the Neuse and Roanoke—Rebel Plans to Regain Newbern, Plymouth, &c.

Newbern, N. C., Tuesday, March 1.

Jeff. Davis has suppressed the Raleigh Standard. Its editor, Hon. W. W. Holden, the great leader of the Opposition party, will doubtless be the next Governor of North Carolina, the people having thus expressed themselves at the various public meetings which have been held in all parts of the State. This act creates great excitement, and makes Mr. Holden's election more certain next Fall.

The rebel ram at Kinston, on the Neuse River, some thirty-five miles above Newbern, is almost completed, and is a very formidable affair. She is plated ten inches thick, and carries four heavy guns. The rebels are now removing the river obstructions this side of Kinston, and are making every preparation to renew the attack on Newbern, Washington and Plymouth.

The rebel ram on the Roanoke River, of the same size, is reported ready to move on Plymouth, and the ram on Tar River is also reported ready to move against Washington.

The Raleigh Confederate says the demonstrations on these points have been only diversions. But as soon as it becomes a necessity they will be at their disposal any hour the Confederate Government desire to possess them, as they are garrisoned by only a handful of men, and two or three small gunboats at each point, the citizens and firemen constituting the major share of these forces.

Brig.-Gen. Wessels, commanding our forces at Plymouth, is reported dangerously ill with a fever. His kindness to the citizens has made him very popular with the people in that section of the State, who are greatly exercised about him.

The necessity of making North Carolina the battle ground is more apparent day by day, says the Raleigh Confederate.

The convention movement in this State, which is of a very formidable character, has hastened the enemy's movement in this direction, who has decided upon prompt action, as the suppression of the Raleigh Standard indicates.

Official intelligence has been received here, confirming the report that Jeff. Davis has issued an order for the immediate seizure of all these important points now in our possession. If this be true that they are to make the attempt, then the abandonment of Virginia by the enemy is decided upon; for if we receive reinforcements and more gunboats in time, the enemy cannot expect to take these points in time to save themselves from Gen. Meade. Every available man in the department, including firemen and citizens, are under orders to be ready to go into the fortifications at any moment. All have confidence in Gen. Peck, who will make the best possible use of the means at his command to receive the enemy. Gen. Peck has made earnest efforts to obtain more gunboats and more men. Should these be lacking at the proper time, the country will not hold him responsible. The garden of North Carolina, with all its extensive water communications, is in our possession, and has cost us many millions and much precious blood. Our presence here is morally equivalent to the possession of the State; it gives great encouragement to our friends in the interior, who have loudly remonstrated through some of their papers against the propriety of reducing our forces in this section. The fact that we are under the necessity of calling out our citizens and firemen whenever threatened, is a matter of public notoriety to the enemy, and a mockery of our military pretensions. This state of things it is hoped will not exist long.

The twenty-three soldiers hung recently in Kinston by the enemy, whose names were published in the Richmond papers, were all members of Col. Charles Henry Foster's regiment, the Second North Carolina, (white.) At this unheard-of barbarity our native troops are exasperated beyond all bounds. They have resolved to take no more prisoners. The difficulties experienced heretofore by their officers to restrain them are, by this barbarous butchery at Kinston, greatly increased.

FROM EAST TENNESSEE.

Rapid Retreat of Longstreet—His Wagons by Rail to Richmond, and his Troops Mounted for Rapid Marching.

Knoxville, Sunday, March 6.

Scouts report that Longstreet has sent his wagons to Richmond by railroad, and is mounting his men upon the horses and mules thus released, and is pressing into the service all the animals that can be found.

The rebel cavalry is still scouring the country east of us. Martin's cavalry appeared yesterday on the French Broad, near the mouth of the Big Pigeon. Some apprehension is felt of a raid by Morgan upon our railroad communications with Chattanooga.

FROM NEW-ORLEANS.

The steamship Geo. Cromwell, from New-Orleans, Feb. 27, arrived at this port yesterday. The Columbia, from same port, same date, via Havana, March 1, arrived Saturday.

The news by these arrivals is unimportant. The election returns, up to the 27th, show a total vote of 10,271. Hahn's majority over Fellows was 3,962; over Flanders, 4,535; over both, 2,241.

An attempt, originating with the opponents of Mr. Hahn, will be made to invalidate the late election in Louisiana. Those having it in hand, say they will carry the question through before all the judicial and executive authorities of the Government.

Two negro soldiers, charged with the murder of a refugee while delivering himself up to our pickets, have been convicted in New-Orleans, and sentenced to be hung. They confessed their guilt.

A mutiny took place on board the bark Garibaldi, Capt. Hoyt, from New-Orleans for Matamoras, at the Southwest Pass, on the 22d of February, in which the chief mate and one seaman was killed. After the mutiny was quelled, the bark proceeded to sea.

Col. Thos. E. Chickering, of the Third Massachusetts Cavalry, has been appointed Assistant Provost Marshal General to Gen. Bowen. His peculiar duties will be to superintend the labor system instituted by Gen. Banks, and see that both the employers and employed conform to the regulations laid down for their government.

The Kings County Quota Filled.—The number of men required under the last call of the President have been so nearly furnished, that the Committee of the Board of Supervisors have suspended payment of the bounties to any more new recruits. There is still a deficiency of about two hundred, but the agents sent to the Army of the Potomac and to Port Royal have secured more than this number, all of whom will receive furloughs, individually, and return home to procure their bounties. The funds now on hand will therefore be kept for the veterans.

To Union Electors.

Union General Committee,
New-York, March 5, 1864.

Two weeks ago this Committee called your attention to the vast importance of the vote to be taken on Tuesday, the 8th instant.

Do not forget the caution you have received.

Let every loyal citizen cast his ballot to secure the soldiers' and sailors' right to vote.

They are fighting your battles in the field and on the water.

It is your duty to defend their rights at home.

Let no business interfere with the discharge of this duty.

Vote down, now and forever, the men who wish to deprive the war-worn soldier and sailor of his privilege as a citizen.

Loyalty to the flag; the safety of the Union; the honor of the country; every consideration of patriotism appeals to you to stand by the soldiers and sailors at this election.

Vote, every man. Bring every friend of the Union to the polls.

Let the result show that treason cannot prevail over the votes of loyal citizens of New-York.

By order of the Union General Committee.

RUFUS F. ANDREWS, President.

Sales during the early part of the week were quite light, but for the past two days we have had a more animated market, and transactions have been quite extensive, both on the spot and to arrive, at full prices. The week's sales comprise 165,000 lbs. Domestic Fleece at from 68c.@83c., the latter price for a very choice lot of Ohio, (30,000 lbs.;) 50,000 lbs. Domestic Pulled, at 60c.@78c.; 5,000 lbs. California, at 30c.@50c., chiefly at from 40c.@50c.; 450 bales Cape, at 33c.@40c.; 175 bales Mentiza, at 28c.@33c.; 140 bales Donskoi, part white, at 48c.; 200 bales fine Odessa at about 42c.; 225 bales African, and about 650 bales of other foreign on private terms. At auction, 1,469 bales California were sold at various prices, from 15c. @64½c., according to quality, the higher rates for choice washed; and 826 bales Cape, part damaged, at from 25½c.@41c. ℔ lb. The Boston Commercial Bulletin, of this morning, reports a dull market, with some depression in prices. "Notwithstanding the prevailing dullness just now, the stocks of really choice fine wools are much reduced by the revolution in American manufactures produced by this war, and it is evident that prices of this description must gain strength as the supply diminishes. The demand for low and medium grades must also improve as the season advances. Already the large current production of army goods is beginning to absorb these grades of foreign staple, which are as yet in abundant supply, and have hitherto been very dull and neglected. The finer sorts of foreign are in limited stock, and at the present rate of exchange are held rather above the views of buyers. The sales of domestic for the week foot up only about 350,000 lbs., at a range of 70c.@83c. ℔ lb. for fleece, and 75c.@85c. for pulled. Included are 20,000 lbs. Minnesota fleece at 75c.; 30,000 lbs. fine Western do. at 81c.@82c.; 35,000 lbs. fine Ohio and Pennsylvania do. at 82½c.@83c.; 40,000 lbs. Maine and common Western do. at 75c.@77c.; 11,000 lbs. super pulled at 76½c.@80c.; and a choice lot of Maine extra do. at 84c.@85c. In Canada, 24,000 lbs. fleece, price not told. In foreign, sales of some 500 bales of all descriptions, at various rates as to quality, including 32,000 lbs. low Mestiza at 28c."... In Philadelphia, sales were made during the week of 120,000 lbs. domestic fleece at 73c.@80c. ℔ lb., and sundry lots of foreign for army kerseys, on private terms.

MD'ME E. FOLLET'S UNIVERSAL HAIR RESTORER AND HAIR DRESSING

The Restorer will certainly cause the hair to grow where there is baldness. It matters not how long they have been bald, or what causes the hair to fall out.

We have the names of ladies and gentlemen to whom we are at liberty to refer, who were bald from 14 to 25 years, all of whom have now a very thickly covered head of hair.

It will stop the hair from falling out in a very short time, sometimes in one week.

It never has failed in hundreds of cases to restore gray hair upon the head or whiskers to their original youthful color.

That you may not be deceived, it has generally taken from two to six bottles to accomplish the object, and if used according to directions, I would not hesitate to warrant it.

It will eradicate and prevent scurf, dandruff, &c., and cure itching of the head, headache, and scald head, and make the head feel delightfully cool and refreshing.

The Hair Dressing needs but one trial to admit, as all who have tried it do, that it has no equal for making the hair dark, soft, glossy and beautiful, disposing it to remain in any desired position, and keeping the scalp clean and healthy as this does.

It is all that can be desired for dressing ladies', gentlemen's or children's hair.

Price of Restorer, $1 per bottle; or, 6 bottles for $5.
Price of Dressing, 50 cents per bottle; or, 6 bottles for $2 50.

It has been from time immemorial the object of philanthropists to find some remedy for the ills of life, and scientific skill has for ages explored every avenue in order to discover the hidden secret. It has been, however, reserved for modern science to bring before the world the great destroyer of disease, and in HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS are concentrated all those virtues which tend to promote healthy and vigorous life. Unlike the generality of bitters, they are not an alcoholic mixture, but a pure tonic, composed entirely of vegetable substances. They are a positive cure for

It is, on the contrary, world wide, and the triumphs of this article have blessed alike the rich and the poor, while like the snow that falls gently on the earth, so this friend of mankind causes its blessing to descend upon the suffering and afflicted. Its virtues are known in every quarter of the inhabitable globe, and the wonderful cures which it is daily performing have won for it the highest post in the temple of science. With such recommendations, backed by incontestible and undoubted testimonials from those who have experienced its curative properties, giving to the public no assertion but what has passed through the crucible of truth, and supported by an array of splendid and hitherto unknown triumphs, what wonder is it that thousands rush to it for relief in the hour of danger.

NEW-YORK TESTIMONY.

From John B. Wickersham, Esq., firm of Wickersham & Hutchison, the celebrated manufacturers of fancy iron works, No. 259 Canal-st.:

* * * * *

I am the recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz: That of health. For many years have I suffered from one of the most annoying and debilitating complaints that the human family can be afflicted with, Chronic Diarrhœa.

During the long time I was suffering from this disease I was attended by regular physicians, giving me but temporary relief. The cause seemed to remain until I was induced to try Hoofland's German Bitters. After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medicine, the complaint appeared to be completely eradicated.

I often inwardly thank you for such a valuable specific, and, whenever I have an opportunity, cheerfully recommend it, with full confidence in its reliability.

Truly, yours, JOHN B. WICKERSHAM.
New-York, Feb. 2, 1864.

From Julius Lee, Esq., firm of Lee & Walker, the most extensive Music Publishers in the United States, No. 722 Chesnut-st., Philadelphia:

February 8, 1864.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Gentlemen: My mother-in-law has been so greatly benefited by your Hoofland's German Bitters that I concluded to try it myself. I find it to be an invaluable tonic, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all who are suffering from dyspepsia. I have had that disease in its most obstinate form—flatulence—for many years, and your Bitters has given me ease when everything else has failed. Yours truly, JULIUS LEE.

From that well known citizen, the

HON. JACOB BROOM:

HON. JACOB BROOM:
HON. JACOB BROOM:

Philadelphia, Oct. 7, 1863.

Gentlemen: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect produced by the use of "Hoofland's German Bitters" in my family, I have no hesitation whatever in saying that it has been highly beneficial. In one instance, a case of dyspepsia, of about thirteen years' standing, and which had become very distressing, the use of one bottle gave decided relief, the second effecting a cure, and the third, it seems, has confirmed the cure, for there has been no symptoms of its return for the last six years. In my individual use of it, I find it to be an unequalled tonic, and sincerely recommend its use to the sufferers.

Truly yours, JACOB BROOM, No. 1,707 Spruce-st.

The following well-known reverend gentlemen have acknowledged in writing the great benefits they have received from the use of these Bitters. Such testimony must certainly convince the most sceptical:

Rev. Levi G. Beck, Pastor of the Baptist Church, Pemberton, N. J., formerly of the North Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Rev. Thos. Winter, Pastor of Roxborough Baptist Church, Pennsylvania.
